FUGITIVES SEIZE THREE IN FLIGHT OUT OF MICHIGAN

Victims Are Released in Small Town Near
Gary, Indiana

Gary, Ind., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Three persons seized by gunmen fleeing from Michigan state police and sheriff's deputies were released today at Griffith, a small town near here.

Those freed were Henry Matty, Vicksburg, Mich., farmer; Claude Mennis, a gasoline filling station attendant, of near Vicksburg; and Louis A. Karr, South Bend, Ind., salesman, whose automobile they had seized.

Reports to Indiana state police indicated that the abductors were a man and a woman, instead of two gunmen and a woman as first suspected.

Running Gun Battle

The kidnappers, who fought a running gun battle with Michigan police, had taken Matty's automobile when they forced the Michigan men to accompany them.

This car was abandoned four and a half miles south of South Bend when the kidnappers seized Karr and his automobile (a 1937 Studebaker) and transferred their other two captives.

The released trio, taken to Crown Point, told police the man and woman abductors both had head wounds. The car contained a large quantity of dynamite and some rifles, police were told.

ABDUCT MICHIGAN MEN

Paw Paw, Mich., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Two Michigan men were abducted today by gunmen fighting their way across the southern part of the state in an attempt to elude a cordon of state police and sheriff's officers.

Those seized by the gunmen were Henry Matty, a Vicksburg farmer, and Claude Mennis, a gas station attendant employed near Vicksburg.

Both men presumably were abducted to cover up the trail of the gunmen as they switched automobiles, refueled and sped on their way.

At least one of the fugitives was believed wounded.

The fugitives, presumably with Matty and Mennis still in their custody, last were reported headed southeastward from Leonidas, an northern St. Joseph county. One theory was that they were attempting to escape into Indiana.

Start of Chase

The chase began shortly after midnight when a state police cruiser crew spotted at Mottville, Mich., near the Indiana line, a car which they had been watching. Instead of obeying an order to halt, occupants of the car opened fire on the police. Trooper Carlos Hurley returned the fire.

A shot from a rifle disabled the motor of the state police car and put it out of the chase.

The fugitives were next heard from when Matty was abducted, his car taken and the original car abandoned.

An examination of the original car disclosed blood.

It was believed the fugitives numbered three, one of them possibly a woman.

Stop for Gas

Shortly after Matty was seized it was reported that strangers had stopped for gas at the station attended by Mennis and that he was missing.

The only possible clues to the identity of the persons sought was that Benny Dickinson, 27, wanted for felonious assault, was headed into Michigan from Topeka, Kan. It was in acting on that tip that Trooper Hurley and his companion first attempted to stop a car and was answered with a rattle of gunfire.

'Week-End' Synonymous With Crisis to Envoy

London, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador, wants the United States in general and President Roosevelt in particular to know that being an ambassador in London is not a vacation.

Kennedy told a thousand American businessmen today of a conversation he had with the President before taking his post. He said:

"I was sitting in the President's office one day and he said to me, 'Joe, you've been working pretty hard for a long time. Go home there and take it easy for a while. You know, they have weekends over there from Thursday until Tuesday.'"

The ambassador said the word weekend to him now was synonymous with crisis.

"I can't remember a weekend when somebody hasn't said, 'Something's going to happen on Saturday,'" Kennedy declared.

Non-Stop Trip

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 28.—(AP)—The four Ward brothers, the youngest 72 years, returned yesterday from a 576-mile trip to Stuttgart, Ark., where they visited their brother, Henry Ward.

They made the entire trip in a continuous drive. The brothers are Albert Ward, 78, of Bloomington; Willis, 80, of Cropsey, Ill.; Arthur, 76, of St. Maria, Idaho, and Logan, 72, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa.

CHARGES TVA HAM- PERS LEGAL AUDIT OF ITS DOCUMENTS

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The Comptroller General's office charged today that TVA officials had handicapped an audit of the agency's affairs by withholding documents and records.

Stewart V. Tulloss, chief of investigations for the Comptroller General's office, told the congressional committee investigating TVA that "we found it very difficult to find records and reports."

He said he and his investigators had spent "months in Knoxville and other places trying to determine the correctness of" certain TVA transactions.

Tulloss said the accounting office then proposed that the TVA render its accounts to Washington "the same as other agencies." That procedure, he said, had been "agreed to in part."

"But accounts rendered to Washington are not complete," Tulloss said.

Tulloss said, "certain documents are still withheld, particularly checks."

Tulloss read into the record a letter from R. N. Elliott, acting comptroller general, to Chairman Donahay (D-Ohio) of the committee charging "interference" with the government's audit.

Elliott said:

"The principal phases of interference have to do with the attitude of the treasurer of the Authority in his early refusal to submit accounts as required by law and the failure of the treasurer of the Authority and the treasurer of the United States to forward the pay checks of the Authority to the general accounting office as required by law. . . ."

Henry Floto Called to Rest This Morning

Henry Floto passed away this morning at his home, 842 Brinton avenue after a short illness at the age of 80 years and eight months. He has been a resident of Dixon for the past 65 years. He is survived by his widow, Emma; two sons, Howard of Rhodes, Ia., and Ivan of Franklin Grove; one daughter, Violet Esby of Dixon; one sister, Mrs. Mary Robinson of State Center, Iowa; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. Floto was born March 3rd, 1858 at the Kingdom, east of Dixon, where he received his education, and was married to Emma Lievan, Jan. 30, 1890. After their marriage they went to Rhodes, Iowa, to make their home on a farm, returning to Dixon 32 years ago, where he spent the remainder of his life.

He was a member of the First Methodist church of this city for more than 30 years. Funeral services will be held at the home at 1:15 p. m. Wednesday and at the Methodist church at 2:00, the Rev. Howard P. Buxton officiating. Interment will be in Oakwood cemetery.

PARKING METERS

Mount Vernon, Ill. — (AP) — Within 10 days, motorists who park on Mount Vernon streets will be dropping a nickel into a parking meter each hour for the privilege. The city ordinance authorizing the meters also provides a 50-cent penalty for the first violation of the hour limit.

Mayor Slothower's Wife, Son, Daughter-in-Law and Daughter Injured in Auto Accident

Vincent Slothower, son of Mayor and Mrs. William Slothower, and agricultural instructor in the Ashton high school, his wife, his mother and sister, Miss Edith and William Mooney of this city, miraculously escaped being seriously injured or instantly killed in an automobile accident Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock at the Maples corner east of Dixon on route 330. His car rolled over several times and skidded along the new cement paving, being completely demolished. All but one glass in the car was shattered and the passengers were sprayed by the pieces.

Mr. Slothower was driving east on the new paving and at the corner a car driven by Junior Hodge, who is employed on a farm nearby, drove onto the paving from the gravel road to the north. Hodge was reported to have failed

INDIANA FARMER "CORN KING" FOR HIS THIRD TIME

Grain Judging Now Under Way at Chicago
Grain, Hay Exposition

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(AP)—William H. Curry of Tipton, Ind., was named 1938 "corn king" at the International Grain and Hay Show today. It was Curry's third successive title. He showed a sample of 10 ears of Reid's yellow dent.

By winning the title today Curry automatically will be barred from competition for three years under rules of the show. No one ever before had won the title three successive years.

The title of corn prince, the premier award to junior corn growers, went to Richard B. Blackwell of Franklin, Ind., who also showed a sample of Reid's yellow dent. Blackwell is a student at DePauw University.

Runner-up to Curry with the reserve corn championship was Peter J. Lux, of Shelbyville, Ind., a four-time corn king in past years. Lux won the title in 1919, 1922, 1926 and 1934. His sample was Johnson county white.

The reserve corn championship in the junior division was awarded to Bobby Riggins of Crawfordsville, Ind.

Blackwell took the corn prince title from Melvin Wagoner, of Hammond, Ind.

Interest Heightened

Interest in the livestock judging was heightened as open class competition started and a battery of experts cast appraising eyes in search of the eight finalists who will tramp the ring, probably Tuesday, when the beef baron, finest steer in the nation is selected.

Although all livestock judging was suspended yesterday, the grain judges worked throughout the Sabbath and brought forth the kings of wheat and oats.

The Brothers Rigby, young Canadian farmers of Wenbley in the Peace River valley of Alberta, carried off the coveted premier grain awards.

F. Lloyd Rigby, 23, ascended the throne as "wheat king" and his younger brother, W. Justyn Rigby, 22, moved on to an adjoining throne as the 1938 "oats king." It was the first time in the history of the exposition that brothers had been awarded both crowns.

A sample of hard red spring wheat of the Reward variety, which weighed 67.5 pounds to the bushel, won the premier award.

The "oats king" won with a sample of Victory oats.

Wool Growing Honors

The College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois held the nation's wool growing honors at the exposition.

The grand champion fleece of the exposition, produced and shown by the college, weighed 18 pounds and was clipped from a pure bred Rambouillet ram that is still in the college's flock.

Before being made the grand champion fleece of the entire show, the entry also had won the championship in both the pure bred and market class divisions.

Careful feeding and proper protection of the ram were assigned

Inseparable Twins

Kearny, N. J., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Appendicitis and bone fracture failed to keep apart the inseparable Arnot twins, 53-year-old Percy and Cecil.

Percy slipped in the snow Saturday and was taken to a hospital with a possible fracture of the pelvis.

Yesterday Cecil was ordered to a hospital for an appendectomy.

They were placed in adjacent beds.

HUNDRED HUNTERS AND CCC YOUTHS TRAPPED IN SNOW

BULLETIN

Aurora, Me., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Snowplows manned by rescue crews bit into heavy snowdrifts over a wide area in northeastern Maine today gradually releasing more than 100 hunters and CCC youths imprisoned in the forest region since Thanksgiving.

While rescue units bucked the drifts, a state police-chartered airplane flew over widely-scattered townships in the desolate territory and dropped parcels of food to gesticulating groups.

State officials said they believed most of the snow-marooned hunters would be able to get out tonight.

Even as state police, game wardens and volunteer groups—some armed with stretchers and first-aid supplies in case of need—marched into the area, some hunters straggled into the tiny village of Great Pond, and others into Beddington. None of the group had suffered ill effects.

Aurora, Maine, Nov. 28.—(AP)

—Rescuers from three sides today fought their way into the snow-isolated wilderness of northern Maine to take food to 100 hunters and CCC youths reported cut off by huge drifts piled up by two blizzards.

Early today state police reported one unit of the rescue party had broken trail to Mopang Lake, five miles east of Beddington, while a second detail approached Eagle Lake, several miles to the north. Police did not learn how many hunters were found at Mopang. It was said several women were among the group at Eagle Lake.

While tractors and huge trucks, manned by state police, National Guards and game wardens, pushed through drifts they reported eight and 10 feet high in places, a state police-chartered airplane dropped thirty sacks of food to approximately 20 parties.

Waving their hands and leaping into the snow, the hunters as it flew over Amherst, Aurora, Beddington, Deblols and other townships unnamed in state maps.

The widespread rescue operations began last night at the direction of Gov. Louis O. Barrows, after he was informed a number of hunters who had entered the woods for the Thanksgiving holiday and week-end had failed to come out.

One blizzard buried the isolated, lake-dotted area in snow Thursday, and a second which began last night was reported still raging in some sections.

Most of the hunters were believed to have only enough food supplies to last until Saturday or Sunday. Officials said, however, some of the hunters could supplement their meagre supplies with game they may have brought down Thursday before the first storm struck.

Most of the hunters were believed safe from the weather in snug, stoutly-constructed camps or log cabins, but a few were reported camping out in tents.

MISSING MAN FOUND

Shreveport, La., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Thomas Richardson said today his brother William, 26, missing since last Tuesday, has been found near Centerville, Ill., and taken to a Centralia hospital.

William is a son and partner of D. C. Richardson, prominent Shreveport oil man.

E-e-e-k! Another Great Rat Scourge is Overdue in Illinois Says Health Officer

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 28.—(AP)—E-e-e-k! Another great rat scourge is overdue in Illinois.

Dr. A. C. Baxter, acting state health director, warned today that it has been 35 years since Illinois has had a notable invasion of rats, whereas the usual frequency of such plagues is 15 to 30 years in some countries.

In a public statement, the health chief said he spoke of rats from the standpoint of experience, recalling great droves of the rodents raiding the farm on which he lived and others in many western Illinois counties 35 years ago.

The director said he fought the pests on his father's farm in 1903 by catching a few animals and inoculating them with cholera germs so they would spread the

GALESBURG POST OF LEGION WILL HAVE BOYS' CLUB

Is Second Post to Adopt Movement Started by Dixon Veteran

Commander J. M. Brady of Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion, attended the annual conference of officers of the Department of Illinois at Bloomington Sunday. At this important winter meeting officers of the Illinois Department, American Legion outlined plans for the organization of Big Buddy Boys' clubs in every Legion post in Illinois. The idea originated with Commander Brady and the first club in the country is to be opened in Dixon soon. The plan has been adopted and will become one of the Legion's chief activities throughout the entire United States.

Galesburg is the second city in Illinois to adopt the program and the organization of a club in that city is now under way. Oregon and Morrison posts in northern Illinois are completing plans to sponsor clubs.

Fred G. O'Brien of Galesburg was named chairman of the law and order department, with Jerry Munich, assistant warden at the Pontiac reformatory as his assistant and Francis Scully of Chicago, chairman of the Legion child welfare committee at the Sunday meeting in Bloomington, these three officers heading the Big Buddy Boys' movement in Illinois.

SAYS CONGRESSMAN- ELECT IS HEAD OF COMMUNIST "FRONT"

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—House investigators received testimony today that Representative-Elect Vito Marcantonio of New York "is the presiding head of the International Labor Defense," which was described as a "Communist front organization."

The testimony came from Sam Baron of New York, appearing before the Dies committee investigating un-American activities.

Baron said the I. L. D. had sponsored a meeting in Jersey City, N. J., last year at which Representatives O'Connell (D-Mont) and Bernard (FL-Minn) were to have spoke in protest against alleged circumvention of civil rights in the city.

He said the organization "stuck its foot in the water, found it too hot, and ran."

"Vito Marcantonio," Baron asserted, "is the presiding head of the International Labor Defense."

"You are certain that it is a Communist front organization?" asked Chairman Dies (D-Tex.).

"There is no doubt whatsoever," the witness replied.

Marcantonio, a former congressman, was elected to Congress Nov. 8 on the Republican and American Labor party tickets, defeating the incumbent Representative Lanzetta, a Democrat.

The two congressmen, O'Connell and Bernard, went to Jersey City and then decided not to make their speeches, on the advice of the I. L. D.

Baron resigned from the Socialist party, he said, in order to appear before the Dies committee as an individual only.

Peoria Couple Killed Today Near Freeport

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Klanish, of Peoria, Ill., were killed today when a Milwaukee road freight train struck their automobile at a crossing four miles south of Freeport.

Klanish, 45, suffered a skull fracture and crushed chest. Mrs. Klanish, 43, suffered a crushed head, several right leg and other injuries. They died almost immediately.

Klanish was a member of the board of district No. 2, United Mine Workers of America.

Arrest of Jews Continuing in German Cities

Berlin, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Jewish quarters said today they had evidence from various parts of Germany that arrests of Jews were continuing.

Many who stayed away from home during the big arrest wave in the anti-Jewish drive that followed the killing of Ernst Vom Rath by a young Jew in Paris are now being rounded up quietly, these sources said.

Word also came from the Nazi-dominated Free City of Danzig of large-scale raids in a search for Jews within the past few days.

All Jewish boarding houses, hotels and homes in Danzig, Zoppot and Oliva were said to have been

Good Job Open

Racine, Wis., Nov. 28.—(AP)—There's a job open in Racine for Santa Claus—or a reasonable facsimile.

R. D. Scoon, superintendent of the United States employment service, said not one of the 8,000 persons registered with his office could qualify for a job posing as St. Nicholas in department stores, lodges and clubs.

The qualifications: good natured, love children, short stature and a reasonably big stomach.

DIES TO ASK FOR FUNDS TO PURSUE COMMITTEE WORK

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Rep. Dies (D-Tex.) said today he would ask the new house to appropriate $200,000 to continue for two years his committee's investigation of un-American activities.

Dies has said the committee would be unable to study numerous phases of its subject unless additional funds are provided.

He made public a letter of asking Secretary of State Hull to request justice department prosecution of the Communist party, the German-American Bund and other groups for alleged violation of the law requiring agents of foreign principals to register here.

Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party in the United States, described Dies in an interview yesterday as the Communists' best recruiting agent, declaring his committee had given the party "$9,500,000 worth of free publicity."

Norman Thomas, the Socialist leader, asked the La Follette civil liberties committee Saturday to investigate the source of the Dies committee funds.

Dies asserted that the committee "has not received a dollar" from any source except the original $25,000 appropriation. He suggested that Thomas "ask whether or any money has come to the La Follette committee from the C. I. O. or the Garland fund."

The Garland fund, Dies said, contributes to "radical" organizations.

La Follette committee attaches said they could not comment on Thomas' request until it had been studied.

Amboy Man Last Seen Nov. 15; Search Made

An extensive search is being conducted by the local sheriff's office in an effort to find some trace of James F. Lester of Amboy, former barber at the Dixon state hospital. He was last seen Tuesday, Nov. 15th at the corner of First street and Peoria avenue at about 8 o'clock in the morning.

At that time he was reported to have left a car in which he was riding from his home in Amboy to the state hospital.

He is between 40 and 45 years of age, five feet, eight inches tall, weighs about 140 pounds and his hair, originally dark, is grey. He has an infected eye and has been in poor health. He was wearing a dark suit, white shirt, heavy dark overcoat, light grey hat and had very little money in his possession when last seen. He has a wife and four children living in Amboy. Sheriff Miller today requested that any information concerning the missing man be reported to his office.

Attempted Murder of Court Witness Probed

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Investigation of the attempted assassination of a bombing case witness and use of telephone and racing news services by bookmakers were demanded today by Circuit Judge Peter T. Barrett in his charge to a St. Louis county grand jury.

The shooting of Lee Baker, Negro witness in a St. Louis bombing case, was labelled "a challenge to society that should not go unheeded." Baker, who is recovering from gunshot wounds in the head and neck, was left for dead in a deserted St. Louis county building Nov. 18.

Arrest of Jews Continuing in German Cities

Berlin, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Jewish quarters said today they had evidence from various parts of Germany that arrests of Jews were continuing.

Many who stayed away from home during the big arrest wave in the anti-Jewish drive that followed the killing of Ernst Vom Rath by a young Jew in Paris are now being rounded up quietly, these sources said.

ILLINOIS WILL CELEBRATE ITS 120th BIRTHDAY

Admitted to Union by President Monroe on December 3, 1818

This week the state of Illinois celebrates its birthday. One hundred and twenty years have passed since December 3, 1818, when James Monroe affixed his presidential signature to the joint resolution which admitted the new state of Illinois to the federal Union.

The latest estimate of the Census Bureau placed the population of Illinois at approximately 7,850,000. But according to the Illinois State Historical Society, the census takers of one hundred years ago had to perform mathematical magic in order to find even the 40,000 inhabitants required for statehood. No less an official than the territorial secretary admitted that the enumerators of 1818 counted many inhabitants two or three times, and even placed on their lists travelers passing through the territory.

Other startling contrasts mark off the Illinois of 1818 from the Illinois of 1938. The capital was located at Kaskaskia, which was destroyed by the Mississippi river more than half a century ago, and a small stone building no larger than a modest dwelling was quite sufficient for all the functions of government. In fact, when the capital was removed to Vandalia in 1820, Sidney Breese, later chief justice of the state supreme court, transferred all the state archives in a small wagon in one trip!

Chicago Only a Fort.

North of an east and west line through Edwardsville, there were almost no white settlers in 1818. Chicago existed only because it was the site of Fort Dearborn, U. S. Army post. Peoria was merely a fur-trading station for John Jacob Astor's American Fur Company. Indiana roamed the northern third of the state with undiminished freedom.

In a rare volume owned by the Illinois State Historical Library at Springfield—"Geographical Sketches on the Western Country," by Edmund Dana, published at Cincinnati in 1819—the chief towns in Illinois in 1818 are enumerated as Belleville, Brownsville, Carmi, Edwardsville, Golconda, Harrisonville, Kaskaskia, Palestine, Palmyra, Perryville and Shawneetown.

Of these, Brownsville, Kaskaskia and Perryville have disappeared completely and Shawneetown is being abandoned. Except for Belleville, not a single one of the large cities of the state was even in existence in 1818.

Primitive Farming.

All the major industries of modern Illinois were either rudimentary or completely lacking one hundred and twenty years ago. Farming was on a subsistence basis and carried on with the most primitive tools. Manufacturing was the concern of a few craftsmen in the little towns. Mining meant the digging of a little coal from outcrops in valleys, the working a few lead pits in the northwestern part of the state, and salt making.

Transportation facilities, as they are now understood, were completely lacking. The roads were mere trails, deep in dust in summer, bottomless in winter. Travel was principally by horseback, while most produce was sent to market on flatboats with the rising waters of the spring. The locomotive, which was to revolutionize life in the Prairie State, was still only a dream in an inventor's mind; and the hard road, which was to bring about a second social and economic revolution, was just a century in the future.

Now and for many years Illinois has been surpassed in population and wealth only by New York and Pennsylvania—states in comparison with which she is still a youth insipid of her one hundred and twenty years.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alms Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 27.

The Golden Text was: "If God be for us, who can be against us? (Romans 8:31).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel; I am the Lord thy God that teacheth thee by the way that thou shouldest go. O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments; then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea" (Isaiah 48:17, 18).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Animal magnetism has no scientific foundation, for God governs all that is real, harmonious and eternal, and His power is neither animal nor human. Its basis being a belief and this belief animal, in Science animal magnetism, mesmerism, or hypnotism is a mere negation, possessing neither intelligence, power, nor reality, and in sense it is an unreal concept of the so-called mortal mind" (p. 102).

CHAPTER 21

Under Fire

Mary Shaw said nervously, "You had been with us, Lou, remember that. Wasn't she here when you brought the coffee, Barney?"

Barney shook his head and looked at Lou strangely, I thought.

"There was just you and Tubby," he said reflectively.

Lou Orpington glared at them.

"I was in the wash room. And when I came out someone had turned out the light in the powder room. The door swung shut behind me and I couldn't see a thing."

"I should have screamed," contributed Mrs. Flower eagerly.

"No doubt. But I live with a man who's all the time going around behind me turning off lights, so I thought very little of it. I remember the switch was over there and I stumbled over there and turned it on. Then I saw the door was shut—the one to the dance floor. I mean—and that looked kind of funny to me, because I'd left it open. I stood there a moment, looking around, and all of a sudden the lights went out again."

"That got me all right. There I was in a perfectly empty room and the lights go out a second time. I stood still and hollered my head off, and much good it did me. I might have been still yelling if I hadn't seen a light flash at the head of the stairs. I didn't much care who it was—I went up."

"Passing no one?"

"Passing no one. There was nobody came down those stairs, I'll take my oath on that."

"The dressing-room door was closed when you stood there listening, Barney?"

He nodded.

"You didn't think of opening it—looking in?"

"Well, after all, it was the ladies' room," he said delicately.

Adam turned back to Mrs. Orpington.

"You had time to look around the room before the lights went out again? You're sure there was no one there?"

"Not unless they slipped into the wash room while I was crossing the room in the dark. And I'd have noticed that. I think the light was still on in there."

"There was nothing out of place in the dressing room—no sign that anyone had been there?"

She started to say no and checked herself. A surprised expression crossed her sharp face.

"Why, yes, now I think of it."

Either the woman was a marvelous actress or she was suddenly terror stricken.

"Yes, there was an empty coat hanger swinging on the rack."

The telephone rang in the library and Adam was away like a startled deer to answer it. In the lounge there was no pretense of polite conversation to cover his voice. It seemed to me that every pair of ears flared out from every head to catch the sense of his few words.

The conversation was brief and inaudible except for one last sentence.

"You keep him there if you have to sit on him," he shouted suddenly. "I'll come when I can."

STEELY MALEVOLENCE.

He returned to the lounge looking dashed and a little annoyed. He had to stop and collect his thoughts for a moment, and the pause gave Mrs. Orpington her chance.

Her terror was either gone or under better control, and her eyes, glinting with steely malevolence, just brushed mine. She took the floor.

"Lacking motive, which is a poor line of inquiry when we don't know who this girl was or why she should have been killed, it seems to me the question to ask is: Who had the best opportunity? And there's one person here who had not only the best but the only opportunity."

Mary Shaw was looking at me. I could feel her eyes boring, but I would not turn. I was feeling beautifully detached, as if this was all happening to someone else.

She was going right on without giving Adam a chance to change the subject.

"I came up the stairway, and you and Mrs. Flower came up the other. We met no one going down. There was only one person up there. Was she tied up behind a locked door? No. She was standing on the balcony shouting that the murderer had just thrown the key over the transom. Thoughtful murderer. And the mandarin coat—covered with blood—who was wearing it anyway? Seems to me you can be too subtle in a case like this. And it doesn't do to be swayed by personal feelings."

There was a malicious half smile on her face. Adam had turned beet red, and for one awful, world-shaking second I detected a flash of uncertainty in his eyes. Then he caught hold of himself and the old hunting gleam returned.

"May I ask how you learned about the mandarin coat?" he inquired smoothly.

She looked rather staggered, but only for a moment.

"I keep my eyes and ears open," she said arrogantly.

For some reason I was reminded of Popeye. ("I yam what I yam.")

Mrs. Flower broke in impersonally. "So that's why you sneaked back upstairs and left Mary and me alone in the library."

She might have been talking about the weather. Though come to think of it, a good bit of emotion is expended on the weather every day. Mrs. Flower was merely matter of fact.

"Well, what of it?" challenged Mrs. Orpington. "We're investigating a murder, not a piece of gossip. I'm not ashamed of eavesdropping in such a cause."

She looked offensively virtuous. Adam's glance should have withered her but didn't.

He said stiffly, "Miss Cornish was with me when Anne was shot. Are you suggesting that the two crimes were not committed by the same hand?"

"That's exactly what I'm suggesting. The only reasonable motive for killing this girl—you'll probably find it was some soldier's sweetheart—was that she saw the first murder committed and was killed to keep her from telling what she saw."

A Cornered Animal

So she was going to bring Charlie into it. I saw red for a moment.

"You're crazy!" I said hotly.

Elizabeth's hand was on my arm. She gave it a reassuring pat.

"Never mind, dear, some people are like that," she murmured with unintentional humor.

Mrs. Orpington had been waiting for me to be goaded into speech. She whirled on me now her eyes like those of an angry cat.

"Where did you go right after Anne was shot?" she demanded.

"I went to tell Elizabeth," I returned and was sorry I had spoken.

"And what did you do with Charlie Spencer?"

"Left him here," I said feebly.

They were all staring at me now, and I knew how a cornered animal must feel.

She dropped that line as if I had suddenly become invisible.

"It would be easy enough for her to come down the stairs, turn out that light and close the door, cross the room and get that wrap and then go back up again. The velvet wrap is the only alibi she has—and a weak one, you must admit."

"Better than yours, at that, though, isn't it, Lou?"

Mrs. Flower was looking at her brightly. "I mean, after all, nobody saw you in that dark room; and there were other people screaming—I was, for one, and Mary Shaw, and Kay. And after all, you say you saw the coat hanger swinging but it might just as well have been you who took the wrap."

There was bright interest in her glance, no malice in her tone. But I have never seen a woman with so completely as Mrs. Orpington.

"Why... why you..." I think she wanted to say "Judas."

Her sheer surprise persuaded me against my will that she was not the murderer. And yet—there was irrefutable logic in what Mrs. Flower had said. I looked at her curiously, more deeply astonished than if Elizabeth had been detected in a snicker. One does not expect logic from the village idiot.

"Not that I think you did it, Lou," she resumed placidly. "Dear me, no. No more than I think Kay did it. Or any of the rest of us. I'm afraid of course the knife being gone and all makes it rather difficult, though. I'm sure it could be done by means of pulleys and counterweights. Did anyone look for any?"

"She yawned prettily, caught Adam's eye and finished in rarer a rush."

"Just I mean—it just occurred to me that she might have shot Anne and then killed herself."

G. O. P. GENERALS MEET TODAY TO DECIDE POLICY

Unostentatious Victory Celebration Being Held in Capital

Washington, Nov. 28—(AP)—Republicans will hum a victory song tomorrow—softly, in order not to irritate Democratic conservatives with whom they want to continue past relations.

The occasion will be the annual meeting of the Republican national committee, the program calls for the staid transaction of formal business, but from the realities of the situation it can not wholly exclude thoughts of the future.

Policy-making, either for the coming session of Congress or for the long-range future of the party, is not listed among the items up for discussion. Nor is it likely to play any heavy part in the actual sessions.

Yet the meeting will bring to Washington the men and women who have more to say about whether the party shall go this way, or that, than any member of Congress or any governor. The latter groups are the private and sub-officers on the firing lines and may get their political heads shot off in most any engagement.

On the national committee are the generals who operate from bomb-proof headquarters far in the rear.

Will Keep Secrets

Just as the generals do not call in reporters and announce in advance their long-range plans for future campaigns, so it is not likely that the national committeemen will give up all their party secrets this week.

One reason obviously will be that not even the committee knows exactly what the party will do during the next two years. A policy-making committee has been created and has spent many months of digging. But it will be quite a while yet before it finishes its work.

In the meantime, the Republican members of the new Congress will have largely in their own hands the job of figuring out what they should propose regarding employment, business regulation and farm relief.

Many of them still hope for a continuance of the alliance with Democratic conservatives which beat down the Supreme Court bill and several other administration measures during the last Congress.

Some Democrats, however, say that if they play around too much with the Republicans, the latter will run away with the ball in 1940.

Among the Republicans themselves the election gains have brought another result, too. They have quieted the talk in Washington that John Hamilton might be replaced as chairman of the national committee.

U. S. TREASURY MAY SOON SHOW PUBLIC WHAT IT'S GETTING

Washington, Nov. 28—(AP)—The treasury's bookkeepers may borrow an idea from business and show in a new type of budget what the country is getting for its "public improvements" money.

Officials disclosed today that Secretary Morgenthau and fiscal experts of various lending agencies had been studying the plan, which would set apart expenditure made for permanent improvements such as bridges, dams and roads.

Balanced against the expenditures would be the improvements themselves, which would be listed as government assets. Stripped of technicalities, the system might work like this:

The government might borrow $10,000,000 and build a dam, the power and irrigation water from which would be sold. The treasury would write down $10,000,000 on the liability side of its ledger, and at the same time would list the dam itself as a $10,000,000 asset.

From the income of the dam, the treasury would set aside sums for operation, depreciation and debt retirement. Over a period of years, the debt would be retired and profits from the dam, if it still were useful, would be deposited in the treasury's general funds and used for payment of ordinary government operating expenses.

This system is followed by industrial organizations when they build new plants or acquire new machinery. A similar system is in operation in Sweden.

The present treasury statements record only cash income and cash outgo. Officials said this accounting would have to be continued in its present form, because it is the only method of showing the actual cash condition of the government till.

They added, however, that a supplemental statement showing the expenditures for public improvements and the asset value of the improvements might be issued annually or monthly.

Most bacteria reproduce by the simple method of splitting apart. One individual becomes two, two becomes four, and so on. This can happen every half hour, under favorable conditions. At this rate, one bacterium in 24 hours could give rise to 281,500,000,000,000 descendants.

Modern Gas Range

The new Certified Performance gas ranges present outstanding broiling advantages that will give you more healthful, more palatable and more tasty meals.

The CP perfected smokeless broilers eliminate the possibility of grease fires and smoke. Broiler burners have been redesigned to increase useable broiler areas one-third and cut fuel consumption almost in half. Greater speed and economy in broiling are the results.

The CP broilers provide greater comfort and convenience, too. Insulation requirements have increased more than three-fold assuring cool comfort while broiling. The broiler burner, like all other burners, lights automatically at the turn of the valve.

Not only in broiling, but in every division of cookery the new Certified Performance gas ranges are far superior to any other cooking appliance. Trade in your stove for the better cooking results of a new CP range today.

Chicago Dentist Is Guest Speaker for Woman's Club

"Dental neglect is far costlier than dental treatment," Dr. Edward J. Ryan, Chicago dentist, told members of the Dixon Woman's club Saturday afternoon in an address on "Your Teeth and Your Life." The speaker, a former Dixonite, is past president of the Chicago Dental society, has written numerous articles on dental economics and standardized dental records, and is a member of the executive committee of the health division, Council of Social Agencies.

"Despite their economic situation, their age, or sex, more than 90 per cent of civilized people suffer from one of two types of dental disease—dental decay and pyorrhea," Dr. Ryan stated. He reminded his listeners that dental decay is not self-corrective, and should never be neglected, and discussed the cause and effect of pyorrhea.

In closing, Dr. Ryan said: "We are all familiar with the tale—for want of a nail the shoe was lost, for want of a shoe the horse was lost, for want of a horse the rider was lost. The rider in this analogy to dental disease may be lost, too, because somewhere in his history a cavity in a tooth went untreated. Then one day, these bacteria which had their beginning years before and entered through a cavity in a tooth, began to enter the bloodstream to destroy the body."

"Dental neglect is costlier than dental treatment. We pay in three ways for neglect, with pain, with time and with money."

J. V. Ridolph entertained with a group of vocal selections, accompanied at the piano by Miss Marie Lee Burns. Mr. Ridolph's songs were "Una Furtiva La Grima," from "Excelsior D'Amor," (G. Donizetti); "Princessita," (M. Padellani); and "Venetian Nights" (Vito Calabrese).

Mrs. Mary Riordan, chairman of public health and child hygiene, presented the speaker. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. John Borncamp, chairman; M. S. Norman Miller, Miss Jean Hitchcock, Mrs. Curtis Rice, Miss Grace Crawford, Mrs. Jessie Burtisfield, Mrs. Bert Jacobson, Mrs. Earl Auman, Mrs. Robert Fulton, Mrs. William Wiener, Mrs. Jean Torson, Mrs. Albertine McKinney, Mrs. Paul Brookner, and Mrs. Emory Countryman.

Amish Children Back in Own School Today

Lacon, Pa., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's picturesque Amish, their fight won against modern schools, sent their children back today to the first classes in their own building.

Thirty of their youngsters, with bowl-shaped haircuts just like the older ones, rode in horse-drawn sleds and typical Amish wagons through a deep snow to the opening of the one-room country school that a special act of the state legislature gave the "plain people" the right to operate.

Beginning of classes in the old Horseshoe Pike school marked the end of the sect's two-year fight against sending their children to a modern consolidated school.

The school was one of 10 abandoned—and later sold—by the East Lampeter township school board on completion of the big new building at a cross-roads community known as Smoketown.

Legislation passed at the special session of the legislature enabled the Amish to set up an independent school district. They hired their own teacher, leased the old school, and installed desks and other equipment.

Latest German Plane Off on Berlin-Tokyo Flight

Berlin, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A fast-four-motored Focke-Wulf Condor plane took off today for Tokyo with a crew of five and one passenger, to show the Orient, especially Japan, Germany's latest achievements in airplane building.

With only three stops scheduled en route—at Basra, Iraq; Karachi, India, and Hanoi, French Indo-China—it was expected the entire distance of 9,300 miles would be covered in from 50 to 55 hours.

Lufthansa officials, however, declared no record would be sought. They said the flight was intended to retard the visit of Japan's "Divine Wind," which flew here in April, 1937.

But no secret was made of that fact that Japan has been negotiating for purchase of German commercial planes, for which reason the big Condor was chosen to show its paces.

Officials said it would return by way of Batavia, capital of the Netherlands East Indies, and Amsterdam in order to show the Royal Dutch Air Line that its time of six days between those points can be lowered to four.

The Germans may make a side-trip to Manchoukuo, where purchase of German planes also is being negotiated.

It was expected they would be back in Berlin by December 17.

Would-Be Robbers Get Only Paint and Bruises

Joliet, Ill.—(AP)—Three young would-be robbers today had bruises and paint marks to show for their fruitless attempt to hold up Anton Arena, caretaker of the musicians' union hall, and his wife, Vera.

Arena shoved one of the youths down a flight of stairs while his wife choked another with his own necktie and fought off the third during the robbery attempt yesterday.

The caretaker rushed to his wife's aid and booted the other two after their companion. Meanwhile, a painter working on a lower stairs, heard the scuffling and screams and daubed each youth with paint as he rushed by.

JEFFERSON NICKEL

Last week saw arrival of the first Jefferson nickels in Dixon. The coin, which replaces the so-called buffalo nickel, bears on one side the image of Thomas Jefferson, and on the other a representation of Monticello, Jefferson's residence. Thomas Jefferson has been much to the fore since the advent of the New Deal. There have been Jefferson programs and our 3-cent postage stamp bears a portrait of the former president and writer of the Declaration of Independence.

In short, the New Dealers are advertising Mr. Jefferson, imagining themselves like him, and pretending that they follow in the Jeffersonian footsteps, but Thomas Jefferson said this:

"All, too, will bear in mind this sacred principle, that though the will of the majority in all cases is to prevail, that will, to be rightful, must be reasonable; that the minority possess their equal rights which equal law must protect, and to violate would be oppression."

How does that compare with the Wagner labor relations act and the actions of the NLRB?

In his first inaugural address, Jefferson said:

"Equal and exact justice to all men of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political; peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none; the support of the state governments in all their rights, as the most competent administrations for our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-republican tendencies; the preservation of the general government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheer anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad; a jealous care of the right of election by the people—a mild and safe corrective of abuses which are lopped by the sword of revolution where peaceable remedies are unprovided; absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority . . . economy in the public expense, that labor may be lightly burdened; the honest payment of our debts, and sacred preservation of public faith . . . freedom of religion, freedom of the press . . . They should be the creed of our public faith . . . the touchstone by which to try the services of those whom we trust."

State rights, constitutional vigor, economy in the public expense! How does that declaration compare with the New Dealers who masquerade as counterparts of Mr. Jefferson?

"Agriculture, manufacture, commerce and navigation, the four pillars of our prosperity, are then most thriving when left most free to individual enterprise. Protection from casual embarrassments, however, may sometimes be reasonably interposed. If in the course of your observations or inquiries they should appear to need any aid within the limits of our constitutional powers, your sense of importance is a sufficient assurance they will occupy your attention."

How does that statement by Thomas Jefferson compare with the unconstitutional NRA and AAA and the other attempts to regiment the nation and destroy its liberty?

And in his eighth annual message Mr. Jefferson announced a treasury surplus and wondered what to do with it.

Treasury surpluses, economy, equal rights under the law, freedom of initiative in business!

Let the New Dealers study the life of Thomas Jefferson again.

AN UNUSUAL NOTE

In these days of purely political maneuverings by too many elected officials a somewhat old-fashioned note has been sounded by executives of the United States Flag association. This organization plans a seven-month program of patriotic education culminating in Flag Day next June 14. Efforts will be made to have patriots agree to perform a certain amount of service each week with a view to awakening what long has been dormant in too many hearts—patriotism. The objective is worthy. The measure of its success will be noted around the world if it succeeds. If it fails through no fault of the program itself it might be an indication of national decadence.

We disagree violently with those who have been preaching that patriotism is a mean emotion, if not an actual vice. Shallow or unthinking people have assumed that patriotism is that emotion which induces one to grab a gun and seek to march against some foreign nation. They have confused patriotism with the simple willingness and ability to conduct one's self in a manner generally good for our people and our form of government.

We could point to many unpatriotic persons: the one who advocates overthrow of this government which has made us, in spite of the continued depression, the world's wealthiest, best fed, best housed and best clothed nation; the one who deliberately stirs up strife in order to create a crisis and give enemies an opportunity to attack from within; the one who intentionally harbors or creates class distinctions and hatreds. All of these, if not deliberately unpatriotic, are at least lacking in the feeling that has kept us, mixed as we are in race, creed and color, in wealth and poverty, marching toward a common goal.

Graft, dishonesty and greed are unpatriotic in effect. Those who deliberately attempt to nullify laws and the constitution are guilty of acts not compatible with patriotism, especially because both laws and constitution provide for orderly changes if desired by the people.

CHARLOTTE PAPER CELEBRATES

Charlotte, the Queen City of the Carolinas, Charlotte, the Hornets' Nest, has a reputation of doing things thoroughly. The Charlotte News, which began publication when the city had only 11,000 population, has issued its 50th anniversary edition and proves itself worthy of the city's tradition. In the half century since the News was founded Charlotte has grown to nearly 100,000 population. In the period between the World war and the 1930 census, Charlotte more than doubled her population. During the World War Charlotte furnished more than her quota of able soldiers and officers, men of culture and attainments who made their mark in service. The Charlotte News' 50th anniversary edition is representative of the spirit.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington. — The conference President Roosevelt will hold with congressional leaders at Warm Springs has a far more weighty purpose than the announced one of discussing legislative plans.

What Roosevelt really is after is to find out just how far the House leaders will go in supporting him at the coming session. He wants to know whether Speaker Bankhead and Floor Leader Sam Rayburn are on his side or on the side of Vice President Jack Garner and the anti-New Deal wing of the Democratic party.

The President has deep suspicions that the two Southerners, never ardent New Dealers, have reverted to type as a result of the election upset and are now back in the Garner camp. To test their mettle he will use the government bill that was trounced last congress.

Prior to November 8, Roosevelt had intended to offer the measure again in the new congress. The Republican sweep would finish to that plan, but he hasn't admitted it publicly. As far as the congressional leaders know he is still bent on putting over the bill. When they sit down with him at Warm Springs, he will propose reviving the fight to see what they do about it.

To his intimates the President has expressed belief that the leaders will run from the bill as from a plague. But by threatening to force a showdown in congress, he hoped to wangle a trade on certain other things he is after.

Chief among these is a guarantee from Bankhead and Rayburn that the Democratic vacancies on the all-important Rules Committee will be filled with trustworthy Administration supporters.

The only sure White House backer now on the committee is Representative Adolph Sabath of Chicago, slated for chairman in place of the purged John O'Connor. The other two Democrats, Eugene Cox of Georgia and Martin Dies of Texas, are bitter anti-New Dealers. In combination with the minority Republicans they control the committee.

Shrewd Politician. Maybe it was typical Canadian democracy, or merely that feeling of gratitude of those who know they are about to receive favors, but Prime Minister Mackenzie King shook hands with everyone in sight when he arrived in Washington to sign a renewal of the reciprocal trade agreement. State Department officials, newspaper men, even railroad men were warmly greeted by Canada's Premier.

When he reached the little group of cameramen who were waiting to snap him, an attaché of the Canadian legation stepped up and said in a stage whisper, "They're just photographers, Your Excellency."

"Good!" replied Mackenzie King heartily. "I'm especially glad to see you gentlemen," and proceeded to shake hands warmly with each of the grinning lensmen.

Cummings and Goings. Since Prof. Calvin Hoover quit the Department of Agriculture the most unusual name in Washington is that of the assistant clerk of the House Veterans committee. His name is Bonds Stocks. . . .

If Solicitor General Bob Jackson is elevated to Attorney General a likely possibility as his successor is Dean Acheson. Under Secretary of the Treasury in the early days of the New Deal and in his youth secretary to the late great Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. . . . What with the present Cummings and Goings the Capitol is filled with rumors about impending Cabinet changes.

Thirty-six-year-old Franklin Waltman, crack publicity director of the Republican National Committee, is the youngest man ever to hold the post.

Goodbye Jimmy. Jimmy Roosevelt is still undecided about his future plans, but he has made up his mind definitely that he will not return to the White House payroll.

Despite the President's statement that Jimmy will resume his job as secretary next spring, young Roosevelt has told intimates he has no intention of ever coming back.

One reason is his health. Jimmy believes the arduous grind at the White House was largely to blame for his illness. Another, bigger, reason is unwillingness to expose himself to further political sniping by his father's enemies. Jimmy is still smarting from those hostile magazine articles about his insurance business.

The President has not decided who will succeed Jimmy, but high on the list are Joe Keenan, astute Special Assistant to the Attorney General, and Frank Walker, former director of the National Emergency Council. Whoever is selected will have to qualify as a liaison officer able to deal with the boys on Capitol Hill as well as being a confidant and companion of the President. Keenan fits the bill in ability and personality.

Invited by a newspaper friend to Thanksgiving dinner, Kurt Sell, veteran German Washington correspondent and unofficial ambassador, replied, "I'll be there; that is, provided I am not recalled."

Mentally Deficient. The most bizarre reason yet offered for exemption from the wage-hour law came from a British customer of Carolina tobacco warehouses.

He demanded that some 1,200 strippers, mostly Negroes, be classified as mentally deficient and therefore not eligible for the 25-cent hourly minimum fixed by the act. Otherwise he threatened to have the tobacco shipped to England and stripped there by machine.

Wage-Hour officials indignantly rejected the proposal, pointing out that an exemption of that nature would open the way for similar requests all over the South.

"Would you have us classify all Negro labor in the South as mentally deficient?" they asked.

"Certainly, why not?" the haughty Londoner retorted.

Note.—Government authorities say the Englishman actually was merely a front for the warehouse owners; that the Britisher took part in their plan in the hope of gaining a price advantage.

President Continues Conference With German, Italian Ministers

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt held his ambassadors to Germany and Italy here today for further discussions of the problems of oppressed racial and religious minorities abroad.

After a four-hour dinner conference at his isolated Pine Mountain cottage last night, he sent them to bed with instructions to come back to luncheon today to resume the interchange of views.

The conferences are expected to crystallize the developing American policy which thus far has embraced condemnation of persecutions of Jews, Catholics and Protestants in Europe, efforts to protect American citizens and property, and cooperation with other democracies to find foreign refugees for the mistreated.

The German ambassador, Hugh R. Wilson, who was summoned home from Berlin at the height of anti-Jewish violence following the murder of a German diplomat in Paris, and the envoy to Rome, William Phillips, who is home on leave, said they had a most enjoyable meeting with the president last night.

Beyond that they refused to talk for publication as they left the "little White House" to be overnight guests of Will Moore of New York, veteran infantile paralysis patient at the Warm Springs Foundation.

The new Seversky pursuit plane has a top speed of 330 miles an hour, a range of 3000 miles and power to carry 600 pounds of bombs.

As of July 1, 1928, there were 4299 civil aircraft in the United States having licenses.

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

During a rain storm one day highway police discovered a wrecked automobile at the bottom of a very steep hill. It had evidently gone out of control and failed to make the turn at the bottom. There it had gone off the road and crashed into a telephone pole. The body of the driver had been thrown through the windshield and rested upon the hood of the car. The terrific force with which the car must have hit had evidently catapulted him and the blow was fatal. There was blood on the east of the car, on the hood and even on the headlights. The police informed the proper authorities and filed their report of accidental death. Later identification proved the man was an under-world character. The authorities reviewed the case and decided it was murder. What in the accident confirmed this?

Answer to Saturday's Twizzler 8 plus 2 equals 10. 12 minus 2 equals 10. 5 times 2 equals 10. 20 divided by 2 equals 10. 8 plus 12 plus 5 plus 20 equals 45.

CONFERENCE OF MILITARY HEADS HAS BEEN CALLED

Senator Clark Sees Expansion of Priming of Pump in Plans

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The war department has summoned about 180 officers to a conference Thursday and Friday on its program for mobilizing industry in event of war, thus lending new emphasis today to the administration's accelerated defense program.

Other armament developments included:

1. Secretary Woodring's urgent recommendation that the Panama Canal be made "impregnable" hinted at the new reinforcements for that vital link.

2. Senator Clark (D-Mo.) served notice that advocates of an expanded armaments program would encounter critical and determined opposition in the new congress.

War department officials said the conference on industrial mobilization was the first of its kind nationally and would be attended by procurement planning specialists of the army, navy and marine corps. They are the men responsible for detailed arrangements to obtain munitions and supplies.

Plea to President.

Woodring's plea for strengthening the Panama Canal fortifications went to President Roosevelt in the secretary's annual report. Defense of the canal, the means by which the navy undertakes to protect both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts with a single fleet, long has been a matter of personal concern to Roosevelt.

Military authorities said that during 1938 the army and navy have dispatched men, guns, planes and warships to make the 50-mile channel between the Atlantic and Pacific stronger than ever.

Woodring told the president it must be made even safer.

"Sudden war would find the troops in the Panama Canal department in an especially precarious position," he reported.

"We must greatly augment our air forces and our anti-craft installations in the Panama Canal Zone. The Panama Canal must be made impregnable."

Senator Clark expressed in an interview his personal opposition to a large part of "this talk about the need for more national defense." He charged that militarists and "super-navy" groups were using "war hysteria as a cover for another pump priming program to aid heavy industry."

TO TRAIN AIR RESERVES.

New York, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A plan for training 100,000 civilian pilots and 125,000 mechanics at government expense during the next five years to buttress the national air defense has been agreed upon by the Army Air Corps and the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

It must hurdle the scrutiny of President Roosevelt, to whom the scheme is scheduled to be presented late this week, and obtain the approval of the new congress meeting in January before it could become effective.

Intended as part of the air rearmament program under contemplation by the administration, it would give the United States an air force reserve numerically approximating that which Germany is reported reliably to have at the present time.

12,000 PLANES GOAL.

Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, already has mentioned the figure of 12,000 air-planes as a likely goal toward which the army will build in the equipment aspect of the air rearmament program. A force of 3,000 planes for the navy was authorized by the last congress.

As worked out by the Army and the CAA, the civilian training program would be carried out at the rate of 20,000 pilots and 25,000 mechanics a year at approved commercial schools, with the government footing the entire bill.

The more promising graduates would be offered the opportunity of continuing their training as a special class of reservists on active duty.

State University in Need of Real Museum

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Prof. J. G. Van Derpool deplored today the University of Illinois' lack of display room for its collections of art and historical objects.

"We own the basic contents of a museum, but we lack a shelter for them," he said.

Included in the collections of art and sculptural work are the casts and originals gathered by the late Lorado Taft, dean of American sculptors and an alumnus of the university.

"Within the last 12 months Mr. and Mrs. Merle J. Trees of Chicago have turned over to the university their collection of paintings by the old masters, but we have no proper fire-proof building in which to display them," said Professor Van Derpool.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A fascinating pastime with Albert Edward Wiggam, S. Sc., Author of "THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND."

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. To prove this for yourself just see a movie where they show a bunch of "beautiful" chorists girls of the Gay Nineties. The audience instantly bursts into laughter. Yet those corn-fed rotundities represented visions of female loveliness to the men of that ancient esthetic world.

The Florida sextette of that general period were pretty hefty girls. At the present rate of reducing we tremble to think what the morrow will bring—probably a mere animated willow wand.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Not at all. Often the one who has the best and brightest thoughts when alone is the one who is most tongue-tied in company. His confusion is due entirely to fear and bashfulness. How to converse well even when you are bashful can be learned by following the rules of psychology. In a little booklet prepared for our readers by Milton Wright, author, on "The Art of Conversation" he gives a lot of these rules that anybody can put into practice. Sent at cost—10 cents—plus a self addressed 3c stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. What they wanted was soldiers. Consequently a frail child with genius as a scientist, musician, writer, artist or statesman was thrown over the cliff while the strong, healthy motion was given every care by the state. Heaven forbid we shall revive the custom or anything like it, but if we did we would at least preserve the genius. Teddy Roosevelt was a frail child and the Spartans would have made a losing bet throwing him over the precipice.

PROTECTIVE TARIFF ON FARM PRODUCTS BI-PARTISAN PLAN

San Francisco, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Senate ratification of all trade treaties and exclusion of all farm commodity imports which might increase the number of "idle men or idle acreage" or force sale of American products below cost were advocated in a program announced here by the executive committee of the National Grange.

The program, a 15-point "platform for agriculture, also opposed any legislation leading to "regimentation of farmers" or infringement of state's rights.

Louis J. Taber, National Grange Master, said the program, growing out of the recent National Grange convention in Portland, Ore., was designed, in general, to elevate farm prices to the "reasonable profit" level and to revise Federal farm policies.

The committee advocated "amendment and simplification" of the Federal farm act, adoption of a monetary policy that will assure an honest measure of value of reasonable permanency, reorganization of government agencies in the interest of efficiency or economy; self-determination by farmers of their own program; and careful scrutiny of proposed amendments to such acts as the wages and hour law as to their effect on agriculture.

Another plank urged that the farmer be given a fair share of the national income with a program assuring him a reasonable profit above the cost of operation.

FOR PROTECTIVE TARIFFS

Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Bi-partisan support appeared in senatorial circles today for enactment of protective tariffs on farm products.

Senator Burke (D-Neb.) a critic of the administration's farm program, said he believed a protective tariff was "No. 1 on the list of the things the farmer will demand from the next Congress."

Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, characterized such a proposal as the keystone of a farm program the Republicans expect to offer if there is no material change in the administration's method of dealing with low farm prices.

FATHER COUGHLIN DEFENDS HIMSELF IN RADIO ADDRESS

Detroit, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin said in a radio address yesterday that a speech he made a week earlier was "neither unpatriotic nor un-American, nor anti-Jewish, nor pro-Nazi."

A transcription of the earlier address was given and the priest asked his audience "to judge for itself whether the speech was either vicious or un-American."

The priest prefaced his discourse by saying:

"Following last Sunday's broadcast a vicious campaign of misrepresentation, based upon fancy and not upon fact, has been carried on not only against me, but against the cause I represent. I am forced to defend myself, not for myself but for the cause I uphold." He continued:

"Admittedly I did attack and will continue to attack the atheistic Jews and the atheistic Gentiles and those who sustain them."

KIDNAP-TORTURE DEFENDANTS GET LIFE SENTENCES

Seattle Doctor and His Alleged Aids in Case Charge "Frameup"

Olympia, Wash., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Charges of "frameup" and promises of a grand jury investigation today followed the conviction of Dr. Kent W. Berry, society physician, and three others in the torture-kidnaping of Irving Baker, whom the doctor accused of attacking pretty Mrs. Berry.

The 50-year-old doctor, facing possible life imprisonment charged he was the victim of a frameup and said he would appeal his conviction on first-degree kidnaping charges. His three co-defendants likewise planned appeals.

Dr. Berry was accused of plotting the kidnaping and torture of Baker, handsome 37-year-old former Coast Guard officer, after alleging he raped Mrs. Berry, 27, following a July 4 week-end party. Baker denied attacking the woman.

After the Superior court jury returned a verdict yesterday recommending life imprisonment for Berry, William K. McAloon, 55, former town marshal; James Reddick, 27, taxi driver, and Albert H. Smith, 32, dairy farmer, Berry shouted:

"The prosecution rigged up this whole thing. Of course we'll appeal. If there ever was a frameup, this is it."

Evidence Ruled Out

He referred to a proposed defense of "entrapment" in which his attorneys offered to prove county officials told Berry to beat up Baker after refusing to issue a rape warrant for his arrest. The court ruled against admissibility of such evidence.

Prosecutor Smith Troy said he would ask for a grand jury investigation of these charges. He said he believed the inquiry was necessary to clear himself and other officers.

Dr. Berry, McAloon and Reddick also were held guilty of first-degree assault, for which maximum punishment of 20 years in prison is prescribed. Smith was convicted of second-degree assault, a 10-year offense.

The four were tried for forcing Baker from his home August 19 and torturing him with a belt and pliers while he lay bound hand and foot in an isolated gravel pit.

Judge John M. Wilson announced he would hear motions for a new trial within two weeks. Pronouncement of sentences will await disposal of that motion.

Madison, Ill., Official Family at Loggerheads

Madison, Ill., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Frank Onesky, recently ousted as police captain by Mayor Robert Dron, was at liberty today on $1,500 bond following a fistic encounter which took place when the mayor found Onesky back on duty.

Justice of the Peace Pat Lindsey issued a warrant signed by Dron charging Onesky with impersonating an officer, carrying concealed weapons, disturbing the peace, assault and battery and resisting arrest.

The former captain waived a preliminary hearing and was ordered bound over to the Madison county grand jury.

Onesky, with three other police officers, was discharged by the mayor Nov. 16 because, Dron said, gambling prevailed in the town.

Passing the police station Saturday night, Dron saw Onesky back in uniform. Without knowledge of the mayor, the discharged officer had been re-sworn by Peter Boehm, village clerk.

Dron said he went into the station and told Onesky he could not work on the department "as long as I was mayor." Several blows followed, the mayor said.

FANFARE—

By DON DANIELSON

Dixon high school's basketball season gets off to the season's start on Friday night when the school's regulars meet the Alumni for the annual contest. Charlie Roundy is piloting the grads and Ken Barnhart is acting as manager. From the looks of both squads and the promise of their speed, the opener will hold plenty of action for the fans.

DeKalb's basketball team is the defending champion in the North Central Conference this year. Last season Dixon high finished with Belvidere in a tie for second place with a record of five victories and three defeats.

Richard Folk, son of Mrs. Sam Lazarus of Polo, has been selected for the second consecutive year as a member of the United Press' Illinois All-Star football team. Dick is a fullback and co-captain on the Illinois Wesleyan team at Bloomington. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lazarus and Ted and Bob Folk attended the Illinois Wesleyan-normal game on Thanksgiving day.

Ivan Helmick of Dixon, a newcomer to the Sterling fight cards, is matched with Bert Young in the opening bout for 175-pounders in the fights at Sterling on Thursday night.

Mrs. J. F. Kennedy of Sterling, formerly Miss Harriet Utley of Dixon, has shown the football pickers how it is done. In selecting the winners for three games played on Saturday, she picked the scores on two of them right on the nose, named the winner of the third and missed the score of the latter by only eight points. In the contest sponsored by the Airport Grill Mrs. Kennedy shared first honors with Bob Austin who missed the total scores of the three games by eight points, also, but wasn't exact on any of them. Mrs. Kennedy called Pitt-Duke game at 7 to 0, the Army-Navy tilt at 14 to 7 and the Texas Christian-Southern Methodist at 21 to 0. On the last named she missed when the final reading was 20 to 7 in favor of T. C. U.

Joseph Procita, who will play in an exhibition match at John Vail's billiard parlors tonight at 8 o'clock, launched his pocket billiard career at the age of 16 in his brother's "pool room" in Gloversville, N. Y. His first start as a professional was in 1927 in the New York State championship tournament, in which he finished second.

Nelson Potter of Mt. Morris, member of the pitching staff of Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, has been secured to referee the first home basketball game of the present season at Amboy Township high school on Friday night. Mendota will be the first invading squad. A former Mt. Morris high school football and basketball star, Potter has always been a popular athlete. Beginning his professional diamond career under contract to the St. Louis Cardinals, he saw service on their farms at Houston, Tex. and Columbus, O. During the past season he was a member of the Athletics. Near the close of the season, Connie Mack sent him to the hospital for an operation to correct a knee injury which dated back to his high school days. He will return to the Athletics for spring training.

STAR PITCHER OF CHICAGO'S WHITE SOX SHOT IN LEG

Hunting Accident Doooms Baseball Player to The Sidelines

Dallas, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Chance, which zoomed Monty Stratton from semi-pro baseball to major league stardom in four years today apparently doomed him to the sidelines with the accidental discharge of his pistol.

Stratton, the Chicago White Sox ace pitcher, is "pretty certain" to lose his right leg, Dr. A. R. Thomasson said.

The leg was shattered yesterday when a pistol accidentally discharged in a holster at the right-hander's side while he was hunting rabbits on his mother's farm near Greenville. The bullet cut into his leg, severing a large blood vessel behind his knee.

Monty, only 25, crawled almost to the farmhouse before one of his brothers found him.

Given Transfusion

Dr. Thomasson gave Stratton a blood transfusion to "build him up somewhat" and said he would decide within 36 hours whether amputation would be necessary. The hurler was reported "resting fairly well."

Although in professional baseball only four years, Stratton had been the mainstay of the White Sox pitching staff two seasons. He won 15 games last year despite a month's absence with an arm injury.

The accident was a shock to Sox officials who had counted on Stratton for the 1939 American League race.

Harry Grabner, secretary, said in Chicago: "It was most unfortunate, for Monty was one of the best pitchers in the American League. But baseball is secondary now. Our concern is about his health. We are all hoping nothing more serious develops."

Promising Player

Four years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Largent, who scout for the Chi Sox, heard a promising player was buried in the mediocrity of Texas' Red River Valley league.

They looked — and started to leave. Then Largent glanced at the bullpen. "Look!" he exclaimed. A stringbean pitcher, 6 feet 5 inches tall, was warming up. He had a smooth, distinctive delivery. Without even seeing the youth pitch, Largent signed him. The pitcher was Stratton.

The church offered the most opposition to the printing art when it began to spread. Dignitaries were alarmed at the Freedom of opinion exercised by printers, and state governments enacted measures of repression in the 16th century.

UPSETS SHARE IN DRAMA OF YEAR'S FOOTBALL GAMES

Stars to Make a Couple of Curtain Calls in Saturday's Tilts

New York, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Old Man Pigskin, co-starred with Miss Upset in the 1938 football drama, takes a couple of curtain calls this week although the play itself ended with last Saturday's climatic scene.

The curtain dropped on a cast that had only eight important members whose performances throughout the two-months' show was perfect. Duke and Tennessee of the south, Georgetown of the east, Notre Dame and Oklahoma of the midwest and Texas Christian of the southwest were the principal actors who suffered neither a defeat nor a tie. In the main supporting roles were Western Reserve and Texas Tech, both with perfect records. Villanova was tied once but unbeaten.

Ten other teams had unbeaten, untied seasons, but they took only the walk-on roles in the big show. Two which previously had been tied but undefeated suffered their first defeats during the past week. Utah, Rocky Mountain Big Seven champion, lost 16-0 to Idaho Thanksgiving Day and Boston College took a 29-7 drubbing from Holy Cross Saturday.

The main roles in this week's curtain piece will be played by Notre Dame, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Texas Tech.

The fighting Irish, after a week of, go west to meet Southern California, co-champion of the Pacific Coast conference and likely choice as western team to play in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2, Oklahoma, winner of the Big Six title, meets an often-beaten Washington State team at Norman, Okla. Tennessee defends its Southeastern conference crown against Mississippi. The Vols can't be beaten mathematically, but since the title is unofficial Coach Bob Neyland says he won't claim it unless the Vols beat Ole Miss. Texas Tech, 21-2 winner over Marquette, takes on Centenary.

Other outstanding contests listed this week are today's South Carolina-Catholic university game at Washington, postponed Saturday because of snow; Miami-Georgia Friday and on Saturday Florida-Temple, Rice-Southern Methodist to wind up the Southwest conference season, and North Carolina State-Citadel in the Southern conference finale.

Bowl Selections Next

The next task is the selection of performers for Rose, Cotton, Sugar and other year-end "bowl" games.

The Blue Devils showed their might by taking over Pittsburgh, 7-0, just as they had disposed of eight other rivals. Texas Christian, with an unusual display of ground power for the air-minded Southwest conference, routed the Southern Methodist, 20-7, to take the conference crown.

Notre Dame, with a definite policy against post-season games, is off the list of "bowl" possibilities. Oklahoma, which rang up its 13th consecutive victory Saturday by whipping Oklahoma A. and M., 19-0, hasn't made known its attitude. Neither has Tennessee, concentrating on the Mississippi game after routing its old hoo-doo, Kentucky, 46-0 last Thursday.

Other developments of the season's last busy week were:

East:

The Army-Navy spectacle before 102,000 fans at Philadelphia overshadowed the other doings as Army outplayed through a large part of the game cashed in on Huey Long's 79-yard run and a single concerted drive for 81 yards to win, 14-7, Holy Cross, whose only defeat was a one-point loss to Carnegie Tech, gained a lot of prestige through its rout of Boston college. Fordham also added to its laurels with a 25-0 conquest of its nearest rival, New York university. Villanova concluded its undefeated season with a 20-0 victory over Manhattan Thanksgiving Day as Cornell took Ivy League laurels despite a scoreless tie with Pennsylvania.

South:

Tulane moved up to the Alabama for second place in the Southeastern conference by conquering Louisiana State, 14-0, in a game marked by several fist fights and spectator participation. "Bama" downed Vanderbilt, 7-0, Thursday. Mississippi, beaten only once, kept its hopes alive with a 19-6 triumph over Mississippi State while Georgia and Georgia Tech battled to a scoreless tie and Florida surprised with a 9-7 decision over Auburn. Before taking on Pitt, Duke romped off with the Southern Conference title.

Southwest:

Baylor took over third place in the Southwest Conference stand-

ANDERSON SIGNS 3-YEAR CONTRACT WITH U. OF IOWA

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 28.—(AP)—The University of Iowa board of athletics announced today Dr. Edward C. Anderson, former Holy Cross football coach, had signed a three-year contract to guide the Hawkeye football destinies here.

He succeeded Irl Tubbs, former Miami university (Florida) mentor, whose Iowa team won two games in the two years he was at Iowa.

The announcement was made by E. G. (Dad) Schroeder, athletic director. Schroeder said the board wanted to emphasize that "Anderson will have full authority over football matters" and will have no outside interference.

His staff of assistants will be announced later, after Anderson has submitted the names to the athletic board, Schroeder said.

No announcement was made concerning salary terms agreed upon by the board and Anderson.

The announcement said: "The athletic board by unanimous action has appointed Dr. Edward C. Anderson as head football coach for three years, beginning next season."

"The president of the university has approved the appointment. Dr. Anderson in due time will submit to the athletic board the recommendation concerning the rest of the football coaching staff."

Schroeder said the board would hold a special meeting tomorrow at which Anderson will appear.

Anderson is a native of Mason City, Iowa, where he was a high school football star. He starred on Notre Dame elevens under the late Knute Rockne.

Anderson has had a most successful career at Holy Cross. In six years his teams have won 47 games, lost seven and tied four, many of them against major opposition.

RESIGNATION OF COACH SURPRISE TO HOLY CROSS

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Holy Cross athletic officials, awaiting a bid to one of the post-season "bowl" games, today expressed surprise over Dr. Eddie Anderson's resignation, presumably in favor of a $12,500 football coaching contract at the University of Iowa.

"Dr. Anderson notified me last night by telephone that he wished to resign," Athletic Director Thomas J. McCabe said. "He gave no reason for the move, which comes as a distinct shock to me. Of course I had read accounts in the newspapers during the past week about Anderson's rumored resignation but felt he would consult me before accepting such propositions as have been carried in the press."

As recently as Saturday night, after Holy Cross ended one of its most successful seasons by defeating Boston College, McCabe had predicted Anderson would accept a long term $10,000 contract that was being drawn up. He had been coaching on a year-to-year basis since he came to Holy Cross from DePaul university of Chicago in 1933.

"My future football connections will be announced by the college where I am going," Anderson told McCabe and newspapermen. Reports from Iowa City were that Anderson's aides, Jim Harris, line coach, and Joe Sheeketski, backfield instructor, would accompany their chief to Iowa.

HARD WAY TO DRILL

New York, Nov. 28.—Nat Holman's C. C. N. Y. basketball team is rounding into form by scrimmaging local professional quintets.

ing as Bullet Billy Patterson led the Bears to a 21-6 triumph over Rice. This week's S. M. U.-Rice game can decide only whether the Owls will hold fourth or drop below A. and M., upset 7-6 by Texas Thursday.

Far West:

Stanford, looking progressively tougher each week, finally blossomed out with a first-class performance to whip Dartmouth, one of the east's high-ranking teams, 23-13. Oregon State rallied in the last period to down Oregon, 14-0, and hold third place in the conference standing behind California and Southern California, which tied for the title with six victories and one defeat each. U. C. L. A. routed by Southern Cal, 42-7, Thursday, meets Oregon State Dec. 10 in the final conference tilt and can tie the Beavers. Washington did about as expected in trimming Washington State 26-0.

Santa Clara, one of the coast's big "independent" elevens, finished its season yesterday on a sour note. The Broncos lost to Detroit, 7 to 6, and dropped off the list of once beaten teams that includes Holy Cross, Carnegie Tech, Rutgers, Mississippi and California.

Rock Fall's Grid Hero

New York, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Football's last big week gave the nation's individual scoring stars their worst (or best, if you will) juggling of the season and moved LeRoy Fry of Texas Arts and Industries back into the lead.

He accounted for 40 points in a game with the University of Mexico last Tuesday for a season's mark of 133 points.

This sent him soaring past Gaylon Smith of Southwest (Tenn.), who did not play, and kept him well ahead of Sammy Roeder, the Franklin and Marshall fullback who took over the eastern leadership with 107 points.

PRO FOOTBALL MAY DECIDE HONORS IN DIVISION PLAY-OFF

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(AP)—National Professional football attendance figures, already well over the million mark, may get an additional boost if Detroit's Lions have their way.

The Lions are hot after a slice of Western Division honors, which they can achieve by defeating Philadelphia's Eagles next Sunday. This would necessitate a play-off with Green Bay and create an extra "gate" before the grand finale between eastern and western division winners.

In the event of a play-off, the game may be held in Chicago Dec. 11 with the league championship being decided the following Sunday.

Washington's defending champions kept in the race for eastern honors yesterday by disposing of Pittsburgh 15 to 0 with the aid of Sammy Baugh's forward passing. They will battle the pace setting New York Giants for the division championship in next Sunday's other regular season wind-up.

In the only other game yesterday, two records fell and another was equaled as the Chicago Cardinals trounced the Cleveland Rams 31 to 17. The Cards ran their total of completed passes to 112, four more than the record established by Green Bay in 1936. Gaynell Tinsley caught seven during yesterday's spree, running his total to 41 and tying the 1936 mark of Don Hutson of Green Bay. One of the throws was good for a gain of 98 yards and a touchdown. The toss surpassed his own mark of 97 yards set last year.

18 College Teams Remain On List of Undefeated

New York, Nov. 28.—(AP)—With the season virtually over, 18 large adn small college football teams remain on the select list of the undefeated and untied today.

The largest array of perfect records in several years has remained unchanged for two weeks as the hardy survivors of the long season wound up their campaigns triumphantly. Seven of them took part in the festivities of the past week, Thanksgiving Day or Saturday, and every one came out on top by a comfortable margin.

Four of the biggest of them are due to play again this week as Notre Dame tackles Southern California, Oklahoma meets Washington State, Tennessee faces Mississippi and Texas Tech plays Centenary.

San Jose State of California heads the list with 11 victories and is the high scorer of the group with a 310-point total.

REPORTS OF ROSE BOWL INVITATION ARE CONFLICTING

Texas Christian, Duke and Tennessee Among Those Mentioned

Los Angeles, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Conflicting reports filled the air today that Texas Christian, Duke or Tennessee would get the coveted bid to the Rose Bowl as the Pacific Coast Conference prepared to name its own entry in Pasadena's annual post-season gridiron battle.

Announcement was expected to be made around noon (2 P. M., CST) as to whether Southern California or the University of California would carry the somewhat tattered banners of the far west into the big bowl next January 2.

Southern California's Trojans, unbeaten in three appearances in the Rose Bowl, and California, victorious over Alabama at Pasadena last New Year's Day, are tied for the conference championship, each having won six games and lost one—U. S. C. to Washington, California to U. S. C.

Trojans Favored

The ten members of the league—U. C. L. A., Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State, Idaho, Montana, Stanford, California and U. S. C.—voted on the Rose Bowl selections, and sentiment beforehand seemed to favor the Trojans.

The rivalry of the two leaders was sharp, but Southern California's stock rose considerably after its 42-7 triumph over U. C. L. A. last week, while California lost prestige in skinning out a 6-0 decision Nov. 19 over the then much-kicked around Stanford eleven.

U. S. C. officials this morning met with stony silence reports that any team had been invited west. For weeks most of the Rose Bowl talk has centered on Texas Christian.

Duke's chances soared when the Blue Devils from Durham, N. C., edged out Pitt, 7-0, and kept intact their season's record of never having been scored upon. Tennessee, the last of the untied, undefeated trio most discussed, likewise kept in the running with a thumping 46-0 victory over Kentucky last week.

FIGHTING IRISH ON WAY TO CALIFORNIA TO BATTLE TROJANS

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A squad of 36 "Fighting" Irish of Notre Dame headed west today bent on conquering Southern California Saturday and achieving its first undefeated football season since 1930.

The Irish, who had a brief workout yesterday, boarded a train here early this morning for their trip to Los Angeles. Another drill will be held Wednesday in a stop-over at Tucson, Ariz.

Victory over the Trojans would give Notre Dame a string of nine straight triumphs this year. Kansas, Georgia Tech, Illinois, Carnegie Tech, Army, Navy, Minnesota and Northwestern were defeated in that order. In their winning streak, the Irish have counted 149 points to their foes' 26.

Coach Elmer Layden announced the following players were making the trip:

Ends—J. Kelly, O'Brien, Brennan, Brown, Kerr, Rassas, Tackles—Beinor, Gallagher, Hollendorn, Kell, Harvey, Bechtold, Guards—Capt. McGoldrick, Bossu, De Franco, P. Kelly, R. Sullivan, Albert, Gubanic, Centers—Longhi, McIntyre, Mooney, Quarterbacks—Sitko, Hofer, Crowe, O'Meara, Halfbacks—Saggau, Stevenson, Sheridan, McGannon, Zontini, Morrison, Corgan. Fullbacks—Thesing, Peipul, Tonelli.

GOOD AT THE GATE

New York, Nov. 28.—The Bushwicks, semi-pro baseball team, drew close to 350,000 fans last season while playing only three games a week, one of them at night.

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up by AP Writer

By SID FEDER

New York, Nov. 28.—(AP)—If all the red faces and crippled bank rolls were laid end to end, they'd stretch from Durham, N. C., to Rose Bowl, Calif., today. . . . Yes sir, Mr. Wallace Wade's Dukes really have it, in case you haven't heard. . . . Undefeated, untied, unscored upon and unrecognized 'till they put Pitt in mothballs. . . . So let's have those "we told you so's", you boys down there. . . . Also s'pose you noticed Oklahoma didn't mess with the Aggies when their running attack stymied. . . . This corner could go for a "bowl" lineup like this: Notre Dame vs Texas Christian, Duke vs Oklahoma, Tennessee vs Villanova, Texas Tech vs Georgetown, and a Carnegie-Holy Cross rematch. . . . Have you any others up your sleeve? . . . Speaking of bowls, Fordham has a good chance for the Sugar tilt after that shellacking of alma mammy N. Y. U. (ouch!) . . .

Dunno if you've heard, but Cefneria Garcia had to take 24 pounds off in three hours before the weigh-in for the Armstrong fight Friday. . . . Scaled 149 1/2 at 9 A. M. and had a raw-ther warm session in the Turkish baths. . . . The grapevine still reports Terry will send Hawk Leiber to Brooklyn for Buddy Hassett to cure the Giants' first base blues. . . . The howl is on to give George Pace, classy Cleveland bantam, a crack at Sixto Escobar for the title. . . .

Oklahoma folks were peeved puh-lently because sleepy Jim Crowley left the Sooners off his radio list of major unbeaten teams. . . . Say Jim should be advised Oklahoma only has a 7,000 enrollment, compared to 3,000 for Notre Dame, where James was a Four Horseman. . . . Moon Mullins, Loyola of New Orleans coach, goes Bo McMillin one better in that suggestion to have coaches call plays on the field. . . . Why not have the alumni do it, says Moon—then the Wolves couldn't howl so much. . . . Good idea at that. . . .

Larry MacPhail is appealing Judge Landis' decision which kicked the Dodgers out of the eastern shore league for three years. . . . Says the daffiness boys were innocent victims of any phlegm-nagging involved. . . . Wonder how come Mike Jacobs was giving all us boys that song and dance about a $100,000 sellout for Armstrong-Garcia. . . . When he must have suspected all along it wasn't even going to close.

Revolta Continues His Golf Winning Streak

Columbus, S. C., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Johnny Revolta, of Evanston, Ill., counted his year's winnings at $8,553.33 today after taking first prize money of $1,200 in the Columbia-Ridgewood golf tournament yesterday with a 234—an average of par for the four rounds.

Ahead of Revolta, however, in the money column was "Slammin' Sam" Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who picked up $336.66 by finishing in a tie for third place, thus boosting his year's winnings to the record total of $18,639.46. Revolta's triumph left him in second place in the year's earnings.

Revolta finished the tournament a mere stroke ahead of "Light-horse" Harry Cooper of Chicopee, Mass., and Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Tied with Sneed at a stroke behind these two were Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, L. I. Each received $366.66, sharing fourth, fifth and sixth prizes.

Today Abroad

International News of Day Summarized by Associated Press

By The Associated Press
The grave issue between labor and the government approached a showdown in France today. Meanwhile in England broad hints were dropped that Premier Chamberlain again would try to find appeasement for Europe and in Japan munition makers were exhorted to expand their industries.

French war veterans stepped in behind Premier Daladier, firmly trying to hold the nation behind his plan to rebuild France's finances, and labor, angrily fighting to preserve the 40-hour week. Warning of results that might "compromise the security of the nation," the war veterans urged the premier to try to calm aroused passions and labor to call off a general strike announced for Wednesday.

Although both the government and labor doggedly went ahead with their plans, this critical week opened with a lull in the strike wave that had swept more than 100,000 workers from their jobs in protest demonstrations. Thousands of striking miners, railroad men and metal workers returned to work.

Chamberlain was understood to have decided to go to Rome about the end of January in an effort to win Premier Mussolini's favor for his plan for European appeasement, hoping that Il Duce would sway Reichsfuehrer Hitler also to support it.

In Tokyo, Lieut. Gen. Elki Tojo, vice minister of war, warned munition makers that "Japan must have sufficient armaments to fight a vast war on two fronts." He declared the United States does not recognize "the changed situation in the Far East" and that a conflict between Japan and Soviet Russia "apparently is inevitable."

Pope Pius XI, despite his 81 years and faltering heart, continued his amazing recovery from his seizure Friday. Again he rose from bed, took part in prayers in his chapel and attended to official duties.

In Spain insurgents went over the top in a surprise offensive in the Nules sector, resuming the long-dormant push toward Valencia. Government advisers, however, said the attack was repulsed in bitter hand-to-hand fighting.

Chinese, asserting they still were blocking the Japanese spread from Hankow, China's captured provisional capital, declared they had inflicted heavy damage on Japanese arsenals and munitions plants in China through fires and explosions.

DEMOCRATS CHARGE FRAUD IN ELECTION REPUBLICAN HOUSE

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Chairman Harry Hershey of the Illinois Democratic state committee charged today "wholesale violations of election laws" in the Nov. 8 election "to purchase control of the legislature for the Republicans."

Hershey asserted "agents of the department of justice and state prosecuting officials have uncovered evidence which undoubtedly will be presented to federal and state grand juries within the next few weeks." He added in a public statement:

"Just how many counties were corrupted by this downstate Republican political machine cannot be definitely stated at present, but it is indicated there may be more than a score of them."

"At the present time officials are at work collecting evidence of fraudulent vote casting and counting in Pulaski, Lawrence, Madison and Bond counties. Many more counties are on the list, but officials are reluctant to name the others until their investigations have progressed further."

On the basis of unofficial returns, Republicans won control of the house of representatives, 79 to 74. Democrats formerly controlled.

SEC. HUGHES UNDER KNIFE
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes was reported recovering satisfactorily in a St. Louis hospital today from an operation necessitated by a sinus infection. He underwent the operation Saturday.

FRENCH WORK TO BREAK UP LABOR STRIKE THREATS

Paris, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The Daladier government's campaign today opened gaps in labor lines drawn up for a 24-hour strike Wednesday.

Labor Minister Charles Pomaret announced he had received assurances that department stores, banks and insurance companies all would remain open despite the strike call issued by the General Confederation of Labor.

Independent unions, including the General Confederation of Christian workers, also proclaimed opposition to the strike, called to protest Premier Daladier's labor-financing policies.

The deadlock between the government and the principal unions persisted, however.

The unions' determination to strike and the government's insistence that public services be maintained aroused widespread apprehension. Appeals were made to both sides to avoid any dangerous action.

Among the main unions are those of factory, subway and bus workers.

Daladier has been given decree authority to mobilize railroad workers—in effect, to place them under army discipline and subject them to army penalties but he has not put his power into force.

Deputies of the socialist union group joined war veterans in an appeal to both sides for peace. The socialist union proposed to send a delegation to the premier asking a session of Parliament Dec. 12 to rule on the decree laws and to Leon Jouhaux, head of the Confederation of Labor, to ask a postponement of the Wednesday strike.

Labor's impatience was shown, however, by a new strike at Dunquerque where 5,000 metal workers struck in protest against the government's policies.

to the William Mondlock residence, 423 College avenue Sunday morning at 10:30 where sparks from a chimney had set fire to the roof. The blaze was extinguished with slight damage which was reported to have been covered by insurance. A new piece of equipment, recently added to the fire truck was used successfully for the first time. A small connection is used to an ordinary house water faucet for use in minor blazes.

REAGANS WORRIED

According to word received here, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reagan of 1842 North Cherokee avenue, Hollywood, formerly of this city, felt considerable anxiety for the safety of their home during southern California's disastrous forest fires of last week. In a letter to Dixon friends, Mrs. Reagan spoke of watching the flames from the windows of her home. The Reagans' son, Ronald, is starred in the motion picture, "Girls on Probation," now being shown at the Dixon theatre.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Henry Briscoe's car, which was parked on Peoria avenue south of first street, was considerably damaged Saturday afternoon about 5:30 when a truck operated by A. E. Patchin of Independence, Iowa, crashed into it. The truck was proceeding north on Peoria avenue and sideswiped Mr. Briscoe's car. Cars driven by Peter Dempsey and John Carlson were damaged in a collision at the corner of Galena avenue and First street about 12:30 this morning, the occupants escaping without injury.

BREAKS INTO PRINT

Pat Fischer, an employee of the Risley Sand & Gravel Co., isn't by nature a jealous man—but he evidently thought the Shappart Engineering Co. was getting too much publicity on work on the Galena ave. bridge, so as a loyal workman he pulled a stunt this morning to get his name and that of his employer into print. Discovering an intake pipe in Rock river, some distance from the shore at the company's plant in the west part of the city, was frozen up, Fischer decided to walk out on the ice and thaw the pipe out. The thin ice broke—and there's the story.

Four-H Club Contests
An Iowa youth, Myron A. Johnson, 20, of Boone, won highest honors in the ninth annual meat animal project contest sponsored by the National 4-H Club Congress.

Gordon Grote, 17, of Mason, Tex., won southern sectional honors for the second time. Western sectional honors were awarded Joe W. Eissenman, 19, of Park City, Mont., and the eastern award went to Roland H. Mullinix, 19, of Woodbine, Maryland.

Johnson, whose accomplishment was the first ever achieved by an Iowa entry, successfully completed 10 years of livestock and five of corn projects in connection with his farm and school work.

As national winner he was awarded a $300 scholarship which he plans to use in Iowa State college.

His projects included the handling of 18 baby beehives, 50 sheep, eight sows and litters and 11 acres of corn. He exhibited 112 entries at the county and state fairs and won $411.50 in prizes, including nine championships. Sales returns from his projects totaled $2,641.

Lois Adams, 17, of Apache, Okla., won national recognition and a $400 scholarship when she was adjudged winner of the fourth annual national food preparation contest.

Three other club girls also won scholarships. They were Vergie Trent, 18, of Delhi, Minn., second place, awarded a $300 scholarship; Lavell Christensen, 16, Bear River City, Utah, awarded a $200 scholarship; and Dorothy Stone, 18, of Windsor, Vt., $100 scholarship.

Curry was here for his triumph today, but left immediately for his home to bring his family back to Chicago.

A sleek, well-groomed black hog, exhibited by Pennsylvania State college, was selected as the champion Berkshire barrow of the exposition. The college also showed the reserve champion Berkshire barrow.

Pennsylvania state college also exhibited the champion pen of barrows. The reserve champion pen award went to Purdue University.

The champion Shropshire wether of the show was exhibited by the University of Wisconsin.

Milkmaids' Contest
Eight bewildered cows were led into the foyer of a loop hotel today to help decide a burning question—are the beautiful milkmaids of Wisconsin better than the beautiful milkmaids of Illinois?

The answer lies in just how much milk the girls can produce from their cows in a contest sponsored by the Chicago Agricultural club. The club's motto is "rus in urbe," or "the country in the city," which probably was one of the reasons why the scene of the match was a hotel lobby.

There, in as much of a barnyard atmosphere as is possible in the shadow of the elevated tracks and skyscrapers, two teams of four girls apiece were prepared to settle the question. Each state furnished its own cows.

Challenge Accepted.

The whole thing began when J. H. Lloyd, Illinois Director of Agriculture, issued a challenge to Ralph Ammon, Wisconsin Director of Agriculture and Markets. Ammon accepted it. The match was on.

The Wisconsin team was composed of Miss Annie Kutz, Ft. Atkinson; Mrs. Lillian Chambers, Juda; Mrs. Charles Newman, Oshkosh; and Mrs. Margaret Draeger, Whitewater, known as the "Wisconsin Dairy Crusaders."

Their opponents were Lorraine Jennings Cotter, Joliet, claimant to the title of world champion milkmaid; Virginia Rolf, Watertown, winner of the Chicago Charter Jubilee milking contest; Rose Bornet, Tinley Park, and Jane Voorhees, Jerseyville.

Fires Conquered, Californians Fear Floods

Los Angeles, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Southern California's calamitous series of brush and forest fires, conquered after a loss of $5,000,000 in property and denuded watersheds, sharply heightened today the danger of floods this winter.

Approximately 37,000 acres were burned over in five counties since Wednesday. Chief damage was in the Santa Monica and San Bernardino ranges.

More than 10,000 acres were swept by flames on the mountains behind the city of San Bernardino, creating a grave problem in flood control.

Not only San Bernardino, but Coulton, Riverside, Santa Ana and Fullerton would be menaced by the runoff of heavy rains, such as produced a destructive flood last March.

IN ETERNAL SLEEP

Milford, Ill., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Friends thought City Marshal Ben Mead, 68, was asleep when they saw him sitting with his feet on his desk early yesterday. They investigated last night and found him dead.

NOT COMMITTED TO AID FRANCE IN WAR SAYS CHAMBERLAIN

London, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Britain had not committed herself to send an expeditionary force to France in case of war.

Sir Percy Harris, liberal, asked "whether this country is under certain circumstances committed to send an expeditionary force to France and whether as a result of the recent visit to Paris there has been any increase in such commitments."

The prime minister replied brusquely, "The answer is in the negative."

Harris was referring to the Nov. 23-25 visit of Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax to the French capital, where defense problems of the two powers were considered.

Chamberlain also said that "no new decision on the question of granting belligerent rights to General Franco (the Spanish insurgent leader) was reached" during the Paris visit.

Chamberlain's statement coincided with reports that the active 69-year-old prime minister was planning a journey to Rome to further his policy of European appeasement.

Chamberlain told the house that he and French Premier Daladier "found ourselves in complete agreement on the general policy of the two countries, which in both cases finds its main object in the preservation and consolidation of peace."

He said they had discussed "matters of national defense as well as of diplomatic action" but added "as the purpose of the meeting was to exchange views rather than to make decisions I am not in a position to make a more detailed statement."

Asked whether the conversations involved any defense obligations on Britain, Chamberlain replied, "No, sir!"

$3,910 Found in Dead Woman's Corset; Court to Decide Disposition

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Dr. Ole C. Nelson, assistant warden of the Cook county hospital, said today he would ask the Probate court to decide who gets the $3,910 that was found Saturday in the corset of the late Mrs. Maria Carlson, 73.

Mrs. Carlson died at the hospital six days ago of apoplexy. She was admitted as an emergency patient, and no search of her clothing was made until a relative called for it Saturday.

Then, noticing a bulge in the corset, hospital attaches investigated and found the money in two large rolls. Relatives said they did not know how Mrs. Carlson had accumulated the money, but believed it might have come from insurance benefits of her husbands. She had married three times.

Her last husband, John Carlson, 57, is a WPA worker. Dr. Nelson said he did not know whether the money should be turned over to Carlson or to Mrs. Carlson's children, and that he proposed to seek instructions from the court.

Mrs. Carlson's second husband, Carlson said, was Peter Olson of Paxton, Ill., whom she married in Kankakee, Ill., in 1919. They were divorced later in Cook county.

MOST METEORITES ARE AT LEAST 90 PER CENT IRON.

WHAT IS ONE OF THESE SPOTTED CUBES CALLED?

ANSWER. A die.

One of the best tests of determining a meteoric stone is by its weight. Since it is made up largely of iron, its heft is vastly greater than that of a terrestrial rock, and easily noticed.

AMERICA OUT-OF-DOORS

51 BUELL PATTERSON
There is tragedy encountered by some in keeping the wolf from the door, but there is a lot of sport for the winter hunter doing just that. Wolves have been getting more numerous in some regions
the last few years, and there are enough of them in the middle west to make wolf hunting a major outdoor sport these days. It is a sport which combines business with pleasure because of the bounties offered for dead wolves and the value of their pelts. It is a sport which risks a community of one of the most deadly enemies to small game, deer, and game birds.

It is true that many of the reported wolves of our central states are nothing more than coyotes, but even these coyotes can furnish sport and pay dividends in thrills as well as the pocket.
They are also great destroyers of animal and bird life. Either wolves or coyotes give a hunter plenty of action, and since both are as smart as any denizens of the wilds it takes skill to hunt them successfully.

Found In Out-over Land
In Minnesota, Michigan, and Wisconsin the best hunting localities for wolves are usually those cut-over lands which have developed a fairly heavy second growth. Hilly country is more sporty for this type of hunting than the flat lands. Wolves are wise enough to want to come up to a rise of ground for a view of the surroundings and the opportunity to spot either enemies or prospective victims.

A hunter with sufficient patience can hide in a wolf or coyote infested country and lie in wait for an animal to appear. This is a tedious pastime under most circumstances and may bring no results.
It is more profitable to go out with trained dogs and drive over the territory where wolves or coyote signs have been seen.

Wolf hunting is sport at its best for it pits man's ability against one of the greatest killers. It takes a good shot to bring down a wolf and requires patience and stamina for the course a wolf takes overland is sometimes a long, hard one. The thrill of bagging a wolf is ample reward for any hardship.

Some hounds will have nothing to do with a wolf if sent out alone, but if in a pack with an Airedale or two to contribute the fighting factor, they will usually follow the scent. The writer has had the most success with deer hounds or large fox hounds. They are keen on the trail and skillful enough to drive a wolf in a circle so that the hunter can get a shot. Occasionally a wolf will wreck havoc with his wicked, slashing attack if the hounds get too close, but the alert hunter can usually get up in time to prevent any serious damage. If there are Airedales in the pack, they will give a wolf plenty of battle to keep him from tearing up the hounds. Airedales are able to keep pretty well up and enjoy the chase. They are extremely valuable in a tight spot.

Clever Strategists
Wolves and coyotes are very clever when they find they are pursued and will lead the pack a merry chase. Frequently the wolf will back track to watch his pursuers. He seems to enjoy pitting his skill against the trailers and shows many cunning moves such as crossing his own track, circling, and following rocky ground where it is hard to pick up the scent. He will also take great leaps to break the track and will often head for water to throw the dogs off. Sometimes he will speed ahead and then stop and rest until his foes get near.

Wolf hunting is sport at its best
for it pits man's ability against
one of the greatest killers. It takes a good shot to bring down a wolf and requires patience and
stamina for the course a wolf

SUPERINTENDENTS OF NORTHWESTERN SYSTEM PROMOTED

W. A. Kraemer, superintendent of the Galena division of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, has been promoted to the position of assistant general superintendent of the C. N. W. system, with headquarters in Chicago, effective December 1. Other promotions follow in line on the same date.

H. R. Koch, assistant superintendent on the Galena division, will succeed Mr. Kraemer as superintendent of the division; and W. S. Alcumbrac has been named as successor to Mr. Koch as assistant superintendent of the Galena division.

In the advancement of Kraemer to the position of assistant general superintendent of the great system of the C. & N. W., a man popular with officials and employees of the road as well as with the general public goes a step ahead to a post for which he is qualified by many years of studious service for his road. He came to the Galena division from the superintendency of the Wisconsin division of the C. & N. W. to succeed L. A. Clapp, May 24, 1935. During that time he has been a company visitor to Dixon and neighboring towns on occasion required. He has the happy faculty of winning the friendship and co-operation of employees as well as being intimately informed on all matters within his province.

Koch came to the Galena division from the Iowa division, having been assistant superintendent there, and had his headquarters at Clinton, Ia., from 1929, until he was brought to the Galena division as assistant to Kraemer.

Alcumbrac, new assistant superintendent-elect on the Galena division comes from the Wisconsin division, where he is at present trainmaster with headquarters in Milwaukee. He was formerly on the Iowa division with head quarters at Clinton and was for about six months acting superintendent during the illness of the superintendent there.

All of the new appointments become effective on December 1. The bulletin is from the office of F. J. Byington, general superintendent of the Chicago & Northwestern system.

RUNNER'S DETOUR HELPS LASH WIN IN CROSS COUNTRY

Newark, N. J., Nov. 28.—(AP)—It didn't seem to matter much today to Victor Drygall of New York's Millrose A. A. that he lost and that an error by a policeman helped another policeman gain the National A. A. U. cross country championship for the fifth straight time.

As Drygall, who holds the national 15-kilometer title, plodded through snow and mud and held a comfortable lead with two miles to go in the 10,000-meter cross country run yesterday, the motorcycle policeman preceding the runners unwittingly drove off the course.

Drygall followed and had to plow through 10 yards of snow-drift to get back on the course.

That detour brought the great two-miler, Don Lash, former Indiana star and now an Indiana state policeman, within a few feet of Drygall. Lash, fighting off a stomach cramp, overtook Drygall 15 yards from the finish and won in 34:33.2, a stride ahead of the New York boy.

His time was 1:56.2 slower than the Branch Brook Park course record he set in 1936, but it made him the first runner in the history of the championship to win five straight times.

The race was confined to a 10-foot-wide path beaten out of snow that was two feet deep in places. A former teammate of Lash, Tommy Deckard, competing unattached, was third in 34:38.

The Millrose A. A. won the team trophy for the second straight year with 29 points, nosing out the New York A. C. by six points. Manhattan college, champion, was third with 70 points.

Lash said he felt the cramp after running the first quarter-mile of the race that is approximately six and a quarter miles long.

Church Services Stop; Worshippers Fight Fire

Carmi, Ill., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Parishioners of St. Patrick's Catholic church near Enfield turned aside from prayer yesterday to help firemen battle flames which destroyed the church and adjoining parish house and endangered two nearby buildings.

The Rev. C. M. Halbig stopped services after fire was discovered spreading from the attic and the church members joined Eldorado and Mt. Carmel firemen in removing furnishings.

For a time, the flames threatened the adjacent community hall and school building but both were saved by the volunteer fire fighters.

Latest Pictures Reveal Hitler Wearing Glasses

Berlin, Nov. 28.—(AP)—News pictures recently have acquainted the German public with the fact that Reichsfuehrer Hitler, who was almost blinded during the World War, now wears glasses on occasion.

His eyes are an important asset to Hitler and recently he has taken measures to protect them. Beginning with the pictures of the signing of the Munich accord of September 29 he has been shown wearing glasses.

But the fuhrer still goes without glasses in public. His followers say that much of his influence is based on the almost hypnotic effect of his glance.

Hitler almost lost his vision during the war, when he was gassed. The room in a hospital at Pasewalk, Pommern (Pomerania), where his sight gradually returned has become a national shrine visited by many ardent Nazis.

According to Eric Czech-Jochberg, one of the fuhrer's biographers, Hitler was blinded at night and not picked up from the battlefield until next morning. After hospital treatment he was able, at first, only to distinguish objects but his sight steadily has improved.

Publisher's Daughter to Wed

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Aylesworth, above, to Robert G. Knott of New York and Glen Cove, L. I., was announced by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Merlino Hall Aylesworth of New York. The marriage will take place at St. Bartholomew's Church in New York on January 4. Miss Aylesworth's father is publisher of the New York World-Telegram and was president of the National Broadcasting Company which he founded. Mr. Knott, connected with an insurance firm in New York, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Knott.

Nine Jews Wounded by Bomb Blast in Haifa

Jerusalem, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Nine Jews were wounded, several of them gravely, today when a bomb exploded in a crowded street in Haifa, long a storm center of the strife between Jews and Arabs in Palestine.

Three Arabs were detained by police for questioning. It was believed the new outbreak might cause British military authorities to take drastic measures in view of the recent warning of Brigadier General M. B. Armstrong against further terrorism.

RELIEF AND SALES TAX WILL BOB UP EARLY IN SESSION

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Two subjects that have captivated the Illinois legislature for six years—the sales tax and relief—will bob up again early in the 61st general assembly's regular session beginning in January.

This time the sales tax issue will be whether the rate of tax is to stay at three per cent, or drop back to two per cent as it automatically will do on Feb. 14, unless the legislators vote to extend it.

That the Horner administration will propose the extension is taken for granted, following a recent statement by Finance Director C. L. Nudelman that little change is foreseen in the state's relief needs. A third of the sales tax revenue and all of the three per cent utilities tax receipts go for relief, but the latter runs to next July 1.

Republican support of the sales tax extension will be needed if it succeeds, because the bill will need a two-thirds majority vote in both houses so as to make it immediately effective. Democrats apparently won only 74 seats in the new house, as compared with 86 they had in the last general assembly, making at least 28 Republican votes needed for the extension program in the house where emergency passage requires 102 votes.

Thus far there has been no indication if Republican leaders intend to make a party issue of the sales tax.

Extra relief appropriations amounting to $900,000 monthly, which the assembly voted last spring in special sessions, expire on Feb. 1. Unless they are continued the state's monthly contribution to local direct relief costs would revert to $2,900,000 monthly.

Exhaustion of Chicago's local resources occasioned the spring special session, but that city's 1939 tax resources will become available soon after the first of the new year. Officials of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission have not disclosed their plans for continued relief financing.

Illinoisian to Become Dean of Eastern School

Cambridge, Mass.—(AP)—A native Illinoisian will become dean of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology School of Architecture next autumn.

He is Walter R. McCormack, whose appointment to the office was announced Saturday by Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of the school.

McCormack, who was born in Oneida, Ill., and was educated at Knox college, Galesburg, Ill., now lives in Cleveland. He has designed school and college buildings in Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky, Virginia and Connecticut. He will succeed Dean William Emerson, who will retire.

134 Years in Prison is Sentence Triple Slayer

New York, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Robert Irwin, eccentric young sculptor who pleaded guilty to the 1937 Easter-morning triple-slaying of Veronica Gideon, attractive model; her mother, and Frank Byrnes, a boarder, was sentenced to 134 years in state's prison today by James G. Wallace. He will be taken to Sing Sing prison later in the day.

Trial of Irwin, specifically for the murder of Byrnes, was interrupted by Irwin's guilty plea before the jury was completed. He pleaded guilty to second-degree murder. Irwin's lawyer, Samuel Leibowitz in offering the plea, told the court the sculptor was "crazy as a bed bug."

Four husky attendants surrounded Irwin as he was led into the courtroom today. Standing before the bar, he made a futile plea to be heard before sentence was pronounced.

"This asking a prisoner whether he has anything to say before sentence is just a farce," cried Irwin. "I have something to say. 'You say you represent justice. I say you do not. You represent a rich man's justice.'"

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

Bethel Evangelical—Sunday was outstanding in the evangelistic services now in progress in Bethel church. Despite the slippery snow and biting cold a large number were present for the session of the Sunday school which was under the direction of J. U. Weyant, and the church service that followed.

In the evening, the audience was the largest thus far in the entire meeting. Rev. C. H. Mengel, bishop of the Evangelical Congregational church with which Bethel is affiliated, is serving as evangelist. Last night he spoke about "God's Needs," and emphasized the importance of giving Him the use of time, talents and material goods.

The large chorus choir under the direction of Dick Weyant sang at both services. A male quartet composed of Messrs. Weyant, Hess, Fulmer and Senneff sang two very effective numbers at the evening service.

The services will continue at least Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The chorus and quartet will assist. The subject of the sermon tonight will be "Jesus Finds a Man."

Christian Church—Bible school attendance yesterday was 202. The adult classes reported as follows: Young People, 39; Upstreamers, 27; Men, 20; Progressives, 18; C. I. O. 17; True Blue 15.

The Young Peoples' Class will have a banquet at the church tonight at 6:30. The "Black" side who lost in the recent membership contest will banquet the victorious "Blues."

All day meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society Wednesday.

Union prayer service and Bible study at St. Paul's Lutheran church Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The Women's Missionary society will meet at the home of Mrs. W. H. Stauffer, 215 Lincoln Way, Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

The Ladies Aid society are sponsoring a moving picture to be shown at the church Thursday evening at 7:30 by the Chapel Hill Memorial Park Association. Admission is free.

The ladies of the Missionary society and the Guild are uniting in observing Women's Day, Dec. 18, instead of the first Sunday. On this occasion Rev. R. D. McCoy, recently returned missionary from Japan, will be the guest speaker.

Hines Hospital Under Diphtheria Quarantine

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The 1,800 war veteran patients and 1,200 staff members of the Edward J. Hines, Jr., memorial hospital in Maywood were under quarantine for diphtheria today.

Col. Hugh Scott, manager, said 14 cases of the disease had been found among patients of the institution, the largest veterans' administration hospital in the world. "This is by no means an epidemic," he said, "but we are taking all steps necessary to keep it from becoming one."

He added that the length of the quarantine would depend on "whether or not we continue to find new cases." Pathological tests were being applied to all patients and employees in an effort to find the germ carriers.

LEADER OF BRITISH FASCISTS REPORTED MARRIED ABROAD

London, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of British fascists, today issued a formal statement which neither confirmed nor denied reports that he had been secretly married to Mrs. Diana Guinness, blonde, 28-year-old, nazi-admiring daughter of Baron Redesdale.

Reports that the two were married in Munich or Berlin in December, with Chancellor Hitler and other high nazi personalities in attendance, were published in London papers. Such a report first was published in Paris November 23 by Paris-Soir.

The statement, issued through his organization of British Union, said that "Sir Oswald has not been in Germany at all for over two years." It denied the authority of what it called "the alleged document of December, 1937," to which publicity has been given," referring to the supposed record of the wedding, mentioned in published reports.

Investigations at all four Munich registrar's offices failed to reveal any trace of Mosley's reported wedding.

The official in charge of the registrar's office in which, according to one report, the marriage is supposed to have been recorded, said he knew nothing about such a marriage.

Claims Record

Dr. Harry Klink, 68-year-old Chicago chiropractor, bustles along on a Chicago playground to claim a new record of 12.75 seconds for walking 100 yards. Klink, who says he bettered his own mark of 13 seconds set 48 years ago at Sarasota, Fla., had his test witnessed by a surveyor and two timekeepers.
